

REBELS SEEKING REPRESENTATION

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 27.—Representatives of the Constitutionalists here today took steps to reopen the question of representation at the Niagara mediation conference. John Lind and C. A. Douglass, legal representatives of the Constitutionalists, held what was termed a neutral conference early today and later went into the state department to take up the subject with Secretary Bryan who had gone to confer with Senators of the Foreign Relations committee. As a result the meeting had to be deferred.

Neither of the counsels would discuss the subject of the conditions under which the Constitutionalists will participate, but the opinion was revived that the power of a Carranza representative would be limited perhaps without plenary authority and only with the purpose of furnishing information.

PROBE THE BENTON AND BAUCH CASES

By Associated Press.
Washington, May, 27.—Instructions have been sent to American Consul Letcher, at Juarez, to furnish the State Department with additional information in order to complete the record, in as far as possible, in the case of Gustave Bauch, the American mechanic arrested by the Constitutionalists authorities at Juarez, February 18 last, and later it was reported that the department is to reopen the case as well as the Benton case.

The purpose of the instructions, it was expressed today, is to strengthen the case by procuring the few fragments of information still available regarding Bauch's disappearance from the Juarez prison.

SEIGE IN FORCE

By Associated Press.
On Board United States Ship California, Mazatlan, May 26.—Wireless to Santiago, May 27.—The first stage of the siege of Guadaluajara was accomplished by the Constitutionalists with the interception of all communication between there and the capital. Information has reached the American fleet that the Constitutionalists have kept the telegraph and railroad lines to Yurecuaro.

READY TO TAKE DEFIANT STAND

By Associated Press.
New York, May 27.—Theodore Roosevelt as president, was ready to take measures "equivalent to action in time of war," to end the great strike in the anthracite mines during his administration. He was determined to take action even though the effort should be made later to impeach him for it. Mr. Roosevelt so testified today in giving testimony before a referee in the suit of Alexander T. Wales, a lawyer of Binghamton, against John T. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, for fees he alleges are due him in connection with the part he took in settling the strike.

BOX RIVER MURDER CASE

By Associated Press.
Newport, Ky., May 27.—The appearance on the stand of George Rice, accused of the murder of Allan Davis, of Marietta, O., the testimony of Davis' brother and the tilts of opposing counsel, marked the hearing today in the "box river murder" case in the Campbell county circuit court. How the identity of the man found in a box floating down the Ohio river in October became established was told by Stephen D. Davis, a brother of the murdered man.

While the body, he stated, was almost beyond recognition when removed, he identified particles of the clothing and tattooed figures on the left arm. The figures were that of a woman, a bow and arrow and initials. Although he had not seen his brother for years he fully identified him by these marks.

Rice took the witness stand after the prosecution had rested its case and a motion by the attorneys for the defense for peremptory instruction had been overruled.

DOYLE PREDICTS HANGING OF SUFFS

By Associated Press.
New York, May 27.—Conan Doyle, famous English novelist, who arrived here today, said that England has stood all it can from the suffragets and that he anticipates a "wholesale lynching bee."
"English government," he said, "follows public opinion and thus far public opinion has not demanded the suppression of the suffragets, but is on the point of doing so, and when and English mob is aroused it is not a respecter of sex". This is the novelist's first visit to this country for twenty years.

GREAT POWERS ARE CONFERRED

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., May 27.—General jurisdiction over railroad operations, insofar as safety is concerned, would be lodged with the Interstate Commerce Commission by a bill approved today by a House subcommittee and introduced by Representative Stephens of New Hampshire. Automatic train stops, block signals and steel cars, with certain exceptions, within ten years would be required. Broad discretionary powers would be conferred on the commission.

CONSIDER EXAMINING DOCUMENTS

By Associated Press.
New York, May 27.—For more than an hour today, Joseph W. Folk, consul for the Interstate Commerce Commission, conferred with Francis Lynde Stetson, counsel for J. P. Morgan and Company, concerning Mr. Morgan's offer to allow the commission to examine the firm's records relative to the New Haven railroad.
A statement by Mr. Folk after the conference indicated that there had been some difference of opinion as to what papers and records would be gone into. "We insist," said Folk, "that the examiners should decide for themselves what books and papers of the firm relate to the New Haven. We also insist that these examiners should not be confined to books and papers handed them and said to be all that relate to the New Haven. In other words, the examination, to gather anything, must be thorough."

HILL SEES DANGER AHEAD

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., May 27.—James J. Hill, discussing "the Future of Our Foreign Trade," in a paper read at the National Foreign Trade Convention here today, intimated that the United States might be in danger of running into such a widespread industrial distress as England now found herself "from attempting to hold markets against competitors while maintaining a wage scale that does not permit her to meet their prices and does not offer to capital an inducement into new fields of development."

He compared the per capita value of foreign trade of the United States which is $41, to that of Germany, which is $67 and that of the United Kingdom, which is $125. He said it was a short-sighted optimism that his concentrated attention for many years on the increase of our exports and manufactured products. Germany was constantly capturing English markets because of the inability of the English manufacturer to change his working conditions in conformity to general changes that have taken place. The United States was following England's example.

"The power of the English trade's unions became practically arbitrary in fixing wages, hours and general working conditions. Germany found that, with a more advantageous wage scale, she could go into the world's markets and compete at prices which England could not meet. Hence the enormous growth of German exports. Hence a competition which the United States itself cannot meet in many lines, and which it could not meet at all did not immense and excessive natural resources, and, in certain lines of manufacture, the use of highly skilled labor and highly complicated machines which cheaper labor is not competent to handle, give us a temporary advantage.

"But that advantage, like every

He pictured the industrial distress in England and said it would seem that rational conduct might save the day, "but the burden placed by unwise restricted legislation and unnecessary taxation upon business in the United States are producing their natural effects here also. Just such mistakes as Great Britain has made and is making may confront the American workingman with a lost job, and empty cupboard and no younger and more promising land to which he may emigrate. Losing gradually the advantage that our position and resources have given us up to a recent date nothing but deeper wisdom and a keener sense of justice toward all factors that must unite to create national prosperity can keep us at the front in the race with other nations or even insure us against disappointment, disorder and economic distress at home."

LONE YANK WON DERBY

By Associated Press.
Epsom, England, May 27.—The derby, best known as the English classic horse race, was won today by an American horse, Herman B. Durcya's Durbar II. The winner created a great surprise, as he has been showing such poor form that he was regarded as a rank outsider, and odds of 25 to 1 were placed against him in the clubs last night. Today he had no trouble in distancing a huge field of 30 starters, the largest since 1863. The betting before the start of the race was 20 to 1 against him, 33 to 1 against Hapsburg and 100 to 1 against Peter the Hermit.
Durbar II was the only American entry and won the derby by three lengths. H. Cholmendeley's Hapsburg was second and King's Peter the Hermit was third.

OUTLINES PROGRESS MADE IN ARBITRATION

By Associated Press.
Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 27.—John Bassett Moore, presiding at the opening session of the twentieth annual Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration here today, declared that existing arbitration treaties were a backward step. As far back as 1794 he found the United States and Great Britain admitting to arbitration in a sweeping manner certain points which would be subject to exception or restriction under the treaty with Great Britain today.

"As we are somewhat prone to boast of leading the van in the cause of peace, it may be worth our while to consider," he said, "whether we should not occupy a position more advanced than that which we now hold if we were to go back to the practice we adopted a hundred and twenty years ago."

Mr. Moore, whose resignation last March from the high office of counselor of the State Department stirred Washington with rumors of a clash with Secretary Bryan, made no attack upon the policies of his former chief. He spoke favorably of the pending "Bryan Peace Treaties."

His address was "A Survey of the Present Situation."

He deplored that the cases of arbitration initiated during the past two years "have not in any respect been notable—related as they were for the most part to simple pecuniary questions," and that even these had been overshadowed by "armed conflicts of exceptional destructiveness," particularly in the Balkans where the end of hostilities was not yet assured.

"Every century," he said, hopefully, "furnishes occasions when the outlook of good causes is discouraging, if not almost hopeless. At such times it is necessary to rise above present conditions in order to take heart for the future."

There was no doubt but that since the Lake Mohonk Conferences began twenty years ago the cause of international "co-operation," as he put it, had made striking advances, the most remarkable instances of which were the two Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907.

"But the numerous treaties concluded since the Hague convention for the purpose of making arbitration obligatory in certain causes, do not, in my opinion," he said, "represent a general advance, and certainly do not represent an advance on the part of the United States."

"Prior to 1908 it was the practice of the United States to arbitrate pecuniary claims against foreign governments without concluding a formal treaty. Twenty-seven of our international arbitrations on such claims up to 1908 were held under executive agreements as against 19 under treaties. The former method is now forbidden."

He took up "The Bryan Peace Treaties," or agreements with the powers for pacific adjustment of all international disputes by means of an international commission of investigation, which should be allowed a year's time for its efforts, while the nations maintained the status quo as to military and naval preparations.

"In all," he said, "fifteen treaties based upon the 'peace plan' have been signed. It is understood that none of the agreements thus described has been submitted to the Senate, so that their fate cannot as yet be foretold; but it may be remarked that, with the exception of a very small number of all-inclusive treaties of arbitration, they represent an advance beyond previous arrangements in that they propose to submit to investigation all questions in dispute, of every nature whatsoever which diplomacy may fail to adjust. They do not bind the parties to arbitration, but expressly reserve to them independence of action after the report of the commission shall have been submitted."

"It has sometimes been argued that making of treaties for the preservation of peace is an idle task, because, in spite of all agreements to the contrary, war will occur. This argument is obviously fallacious. Remedies for ills are not to be discarded merely because they do not always prove to be efficacious."

He referred to the "A. B. C. Mediation," now going on:

"Prior to The Hague Convention, the tender of good offices of mediation without solicitation or consultation was usually regarded as an instructive act, savoring of unjustifiable interferences. By that convention it was declared that 'powers, strangers to the dispute, have the right to offer good offices or mediation, even during the course of hostilities,' and that exercise of this right could never be regarded by the parties to the conflict as 'an unfriendly act.' This stipulation paved the way for the tender of good offices or mediation made by the diplomatic representatives of Argentina, Brazil and Chile, at Washington, after hostilities were begun at Vera Cruz. The offer was accepted. No matter what may be its present result, it is a remarkable event in the history of international relations in the Western Hemisphere."

He believed that the long delayed Third Hague Conference would be held by 1916, and concluded:

"After twenty years of fruitful aid to the cause of peace and goodwill, the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration today faces the future with confidence and hope. * * * The maintenance of continuously peaceful conditions will depend upon the general improvement of political and social relations. And to the accomplishment of this all well-disposed men and women may work together in the inspiring belief that in the affairs of the world enlightened public opinion plays a constantly larger and more decisive part."

WANT BIBLE READ DAILY IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

By Associated Press.
Chicago, May 27.—Efforts to have the Bible read daily in the public schools of the United States will be pressed strongly by the alliance of reformed churches in America holding the Presbyterian system, according to resolutions offered today for acceptance by the Presbyterian general assembly in session here.

"Religious training in our public schools, so planned as to avoid the violation in any way of our cherished principle of the separation of church and state, should be systematic and constant," declared the preamble. "This council calls upon the church authorities to investigate the subject fully with a view to devising some method of averting the sad results of present inefficiency in moral and religious training."

The resolution reads:

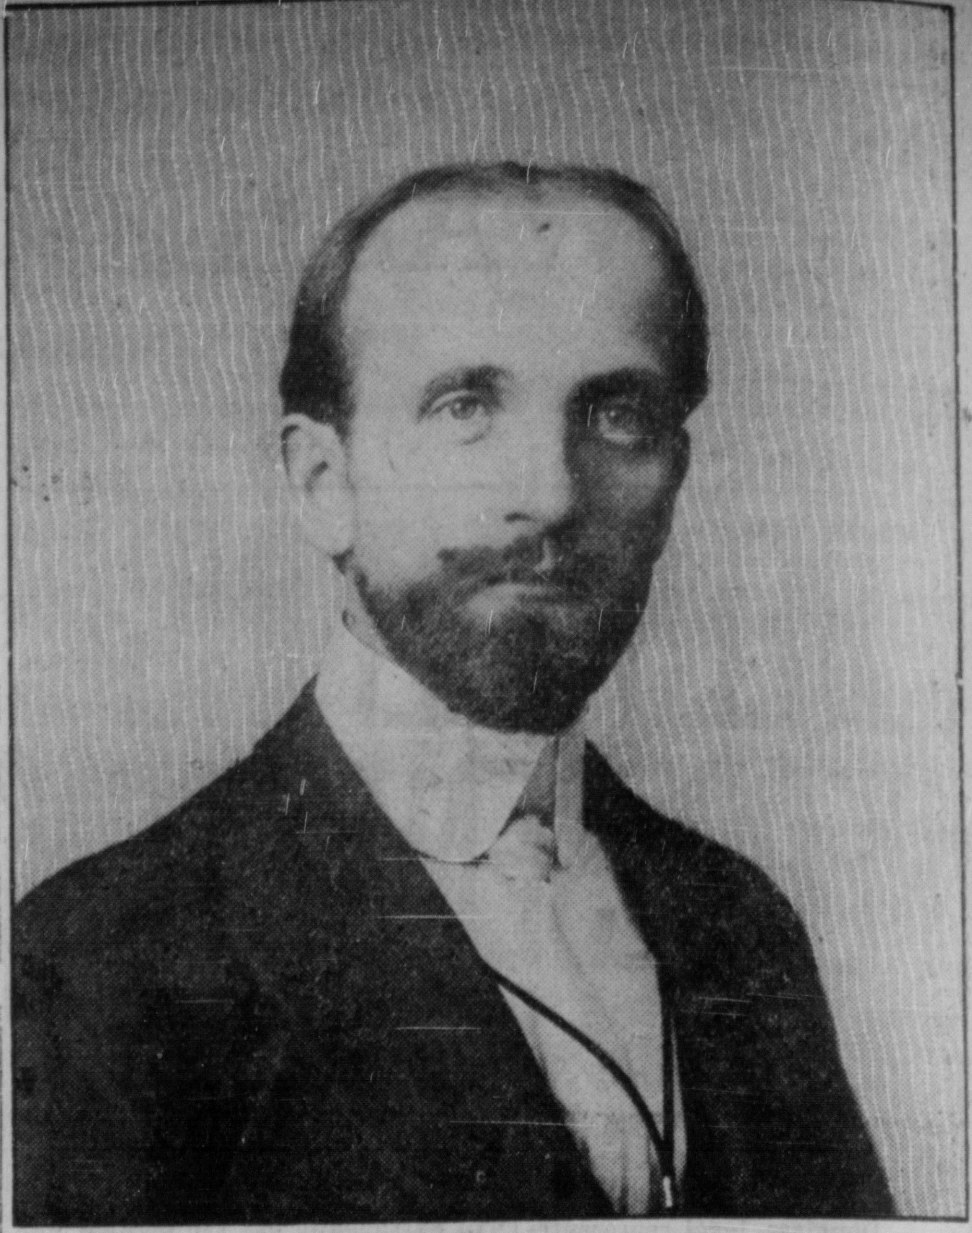

"The Word of God is the charter of the spiritual and civil rights of man, as abundantly illustrated in the history and institutions of this country. Persistent efforts are being made to exclude the Bible from use in the public schools. It is ordered that use be made of every proper means in maintaining the Word of God as an essential element in the education and training of the youth of the land."

GRAPES SELL AT $4.20 PER BUNCH

When the Panama Canal once opens for business many industries which have hitherto been more or less dormant in South America will be stimulated into activity. The United States furnishes a profitable market for many products of the southern continent, and with easy and rapid transportation facilities supplied this market will extend to perishable as the more stable products. One of the most profitable industries for which some of the South American countries are especially well adapted is that of fruit growing. In a recent article in the Monthly Bulletin of the Pan American Union Mr. W. F. Wright of the United States Department of Agriculture writes:

"South America probably has a range of climate and variety of conditions that will admit of the successful cultivation of every known fruit. Very nearly all of present importance have been introduced in the tropical or sub-tropical regions are those adapted to such a climate, namely, the sapodilla, mamme apple, mango, breadfruit, banana, tamarinde, pomgranite, avocado, loquat, olive, fig, orange, and lemon, in addition to those native. In temperate regions, nearly all of the deciduous fruits grown in the United States have been introduced."

In Argentina the grape is the fruit which has attained the greatest commercial importance and the Mendoza country seems to lead all other sections. According to Mr. Wright undeveloped land in the vicinity of Mendoza is considered worth from $170 to $250 per acre. Planted in vines it is valued at $850 to $1,200 per acre. The net profit from vines in good bearing condition is said to be about $170 per acre. One grower, a native Argentine, stated that table grapes trained on an overhead trellis yielded him a net profit of $840 to $1,000 per acre, and that he had received as high as $4.20 for single selected clusters in Buenos Aires. The area in vines for the whole of Argentina is stated at 259,000 acres in 1910, and the production of the vines at 92,674,000 gallons, valued at more than 25 million dollars. In the same year California produced nearly 45,500,000 gallons, valued at a little more than 13 million dollars.

JAPANESE HOLD PAGANISTIC CEREMONIES AT CORONATION

By Associated Press.
Tokio, May 27.—Although it is nearly two years since the death of the Emperor Mutsuhito, it will be another two years before his successor, the Emperor Yoshihito, is fully enthroned, according to all the Japanese rites. The postponement of the coronation festivities, which had been arranged for the coming fall, is bemoaned by the whole Japanese people, but the death of the Dowager Empress necessitates a long period of national mourning and it is a sacreligious thing to use at the coronation ceremony the seed of rice that has been ripened during a season of sorrow.

A part of the coronation ritual had been observed prior to the death of the Empress Dowager, however. The Imperial ancestors had been duly notified that the ceremonies were planned for the coming fall, and upon the death of the Dowager Empress, the ancestors were again visited at their various shrines and notified that the ceremonies would be deferred until 1916.

In Tokio, the Emperor himself made the announcement before the Imperial sanctuary in the palace. This is the most sacred of the shrines, where the spirit of the grand ancestor, Amaterasu-Omikami, "goddess of the sun," is enshrined. Here, also, are the three sacred symbols of the throne, the metal mirror, the sword, and the coma-shaped jewel, around each of which is woven the tradition that they were all handed down by the "goddess of the sun" the Imperial grand ancestor, to her grandson, Ninigi-no-mikoto, on the occasion of the latter's descent to the island empire from the heavenly region. When the sun goddess conferred these treasures upon her grand son she solemnly told him to respect them and enshrine them in the palace.

The ceremonies at the Imperial sanctuary were impressive. All of the participating officials were in full dress, chamberlains, court ritualists, and court ladies being attired in ancient, ceremonial costumes. The Emperor, attended by Count Toda, grand master of ceremonies, and Count Watanabe, household minister, made his entry, followed by chamberlains who carried the sacred symbols. Afterward the Empress entered with equal pomp, escorted by numerous court ladies and princesses, and Baron Hara, vice-chief of the coronation commission.

When all were seated, the Emperor proceeded to place before the sanctuary and, after making a reverent bow, read an address informing the ancestral souls of the date of the coronation ceremonies. The Empress also went before the shrine, followed in order by all of the members of the Imperial family, making the same obeisance.

Similar ceremonies were conducted before the shrines of Koreiden and Shinden, with the Emperor participating, and Imperial messengers were, at the same time despatched to other shrines. Later all of the original ceremonies were repeated to announce to the Imperial ancestors the postponement of the coronation for another two years.

The Prince Asserts Himself

In the flare-up of Kaiser Wilhelm and other members of the German royal family, over the public announcement of Prince Oscar of Prussia, his fifth son, of his engagement to Countess Ina Marie, daughter of a Mecklinburg count, another proof that the doctrine of eugenic marriages is not in favor with royal families; has been furnished.

If there is one social strata more than another where eugenic marriages are not popular, it is in royal family circles, and if there is a social strata that would be more benefitted by the establishment of more natural rules relating to marriages, than the royal families, few people, especially in America, are aware of its existence.

For a long time, thinking people, many of them residing in a monarchy, have been contending that the circle within which members of the royal family could contract marriage, was so small as to seriously threaten the physical and mental vigor of the family.

The tolerance of enlightened people of this and other ridiculous forms of royalty is a sad commentary on the boasted advance of their civilization.

Most Americans sincerely hope that the young Prince Oscar will remain firm in his announced purpose and marry the little lady of his choice regardless of the Kaiser's threat to send him into exile.

If the people of the land do not demand an abolition of this nonsensical custom of marrying only in the small royal family then royalty should do so itself.

It is refreshing to see the young prince assert his independence.

All people, everywhere, who are in touch with the progress of the time, either openly or secretly, glory in his "spunk."

The fact that he is the first of the long line of Hohenzollerns to marry out of the little family circle of royalty should be an incentive to him to follow the dictate of his heart and should weight more heavily with him than should the knowledge that if he refuses to follow his heart promptings he will be only one of many who have been shackled to a ridiculous custom.

Marriage Shouldn't Bar Women From Jobs

By Mrs. SUSAN W. FITZGERALD, President Massachusetts Political Equality Union

WOMEN are hideously hampered in professional work by having to bother about the care of their clothes and all sorts of details that a man has never had to think of. If a man had to get his own breakfast and dinner and wash out handkerchiefs and things at night he wouldn't like it much. A professional woman ought to be saved all that and have her nervous strength conserved for her work. It would be quite nice for her to have a HUSBAND TO HAVE HOT CHOCOLATE READY FOR HER when she came home, to take her wraps and perform various little services for her. It would save her a lot—just as a wife saves her husband—and be a good, comfy job for him. He would be BETTER THAN A MERE MAID because more devoted.

AS TO THE MARRIAGE QUESTION, IT IS NO BUSINESS OF THE LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL—WHICH HAS JUST ANNOUNCED THAT IF ANY OR ALL OF THE THREE WOMEN PHYSICIANS ON THE BOARD OF HEALTH MARRY SUCH AN ACT WILL BE CONSIDERED EQUIVALENT TO A RESIGNATION—OR OF ANY ONE ELSE WHETHER A WOMAN IS MARRIED OR SINGLE. THAT IS JUST AS MUCH A PERSONAL MATTER AS TO THE CHURCH A WOMAN BELONGS TO, THE DAIRY SHE PATRONIZES OR THE FACT THAT SHE HAS A GRANDMOTHER.

Business Hesitation Can't Be Attributed to Mexico

By Secretary of Commerce WILLIAM C. REDFIELD

THE situation in Mexico will not affect our commerce. Of course it will interrupt our trade relations with Mexico, but it will not disturb our commerce with other nations of the world. There is today a noticeable hesitation throughout the business world. There is a downward trend of costs. That hesitation on the part of business cannot be attributed to conditions in Mexico, for that is a local condition.

THE BUSINESS DEPRESSION IS UNIVERSAL. PERHAPS IT IS PARTLY DUE TO THE FACT THAT THE AVERAGE COST OF COMMODITIES IS DECLINING. THE WHOLESALE AND THE MANUFACTURERS ARE HOLDING BACK TO AWAIT A BETTER MARKET. PURCHASERS ARE INCLINED TO WAIT FOR LOWER PRICES. SELLERS ARE NOT ANXIOUS TO BOOM THEIR PRODUCTS ON A SLOW MARKET.

Poetry For Today

A PRETTY GOOD WORLD.

This world's a pretty good sort of world,
Taking it altogether.
In spite of the grief and sorrow we meet,
In spite of the gloomy weather.
There are friends to love and hopes to cheer,
And plenty of compensation
For every ache for those who make
The best of the situation.

There are quiet nooks for lovers of books,
With Nature in happy union;
There are cool retreats from the noon-tide heats
Where souls may have sweet communion;
And if there is a spot where the sun shines not
There's always a lamp to light it.
And if there's a wrong we know ere long
That Heaven above will right it.

So it's not for us to make a fuss
Because of life's sad mischances,
Nor to wear ourselves out to bring about
A change in our circumstances.
For this world's a pretty good sort of world,
And He to whom we are debtor
Appoints our place, and supplies the grace
To help us make it better.

Tells Story of South American Trip to Geographers.

DESCRIBES RIVER OF DOUBT

Submits to Society His Evidence of the Discovery of Stream One Thousand Miles Long—Colonel Also Calls On President Wilson and Holds Conference With Progressives—Busy Day at Capital.

Washington, May 27.—Former President Roosevelt spent a strenuous day in the national capital. Into nine hours he crowded a speech on his South American expedition, a call on President Wilson, a political conference of first importance with the Progressives in congress, a visit to the Smithsonian Institution to see the trophies of his African hunt of four years ago, a meeting with a few members of the diplomatic corps and a dinner with his old friends here. Besides, there were a dozen impromptu receptions.

Colonel Roosevelt went to the White House dressed in a gray suit and a white felt hat. He was the guest of the president for half an hour, telling stories and drinking lemonade.

Before the National Geographic society the colonel told the story of his South American explorations and submitted his evidence of the discovery of a 1,000-mile river. The big auditorium was crowded with members and guests of the society, leaders of official life and of society. The speaker made his talk from a big temporary stage, fitted with maps of South America, a big stereopticon screen and a blackboard, upon which was drawn a scale chart of a portion of the Amazon river, with its tributaries, Madeira and Tapajoz. The chart showed the new watercourse described by Colonel Roosevelt in dotted lines.

Roosevelt said he had built upon the work done by South American explorers, particularly during the last eight years. He characterized his South American expedition as a "zoogeographic reconnaissance," and said that exhaustive investigating work would not be done properly by the first expedition to penetrate the wilderness.

The colonel said the work of early Spanish explorers, who discovered the Amazon river, made "the explorations of our day seem like child's play." He added that these explorers also discovered the mouths of several tributaries of the Amazon. "Some of these rivers were not known beyond their mouths for centuries," said the colonel, "even what they knew of the mouth of the river I am going to speak about was all wrong."

The colonel said he had not gone to South America to discover rivers, but on a purely zoological mission, but that Dr. Muller, Brazilian minister of foreign affairs, had inspired him to seek out the now famous "River of Doubt." "Mr Muller told me," Mr. Roosevelt declared, "that as a result of the work of the Brazilian telegraphic commission in western Brazil, all the maps in existence of that part of the country would have to be changed."

Colonel Roosevelt criticised the modern maps, which he said were "all wrong."

"It is almost impossible for me to show you what I did on these maps," he said, "because they are so preposterously wrong."

PROHIBITION GIVEN BOOST

Radical Resolutions Adopted By General Assembly.

Chicago, May 27.—Presbyterians throughout the United States who belong to clubs or other organizations which are licensed to sell intoxicating liquors are strongly urged to resign from such associations in radical resolutions approved by the 126th general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America.

The resolutions, which were presented by the Rev. W. P. Calhoun of Knoxville, Tenn., chairman of the committee on temperance, also urged that all officers and members of local churches be forbidden to sign liquor applications or to rent property in which intoxicants are sold. The cigaret habit was scathingly denounced and a stand taken in favor of nation-wide prohibition. It was decided to hold the next annual assembly in Rochester, N. Y.

CORN IS SOARING WHEAT FOLLOWING

The price of corn is now higher, with probably one exception, than it has been for more than 20 years, it is claimed, owing to the shortage of crop last season. At the present time the price ranges from 70 to 75 cents per bushel, with good prospects of still further increase before the new crop comes on late in the fall.

The price of wheat is starting upward, and is now about 92 cents per bushel, with prospects of going higher, owing to the damage that is being inflicted throughout the wheat belt by the Hessian fly, other pests, and the dry weather.

Among the farmers who are heavy raisers of swine there is a great demand for corn, and in some instances 75c has been paid and the farmer who buys the corn does the hauling.

THE TELEPHONE MERGER.

Plans for a merger of the rival telephone companies in Ohio indicate that the curse of two telephone systems in the same city will soon be lifted from the people. There is no excuse for duplication of service in any city and the average telephone subscriber will feel relieved when one system is eliminated.

The good of the public requires that there should be a monopoly of the telephone. The chief value of the telephone is found in the quickness with which the subscriber can communicate with others. The more subscribers which any system has, the greater its value to the individual will be and the quickness with which he can be connected with any subscriber forms an important factor in determining its value to him.

Two telephone systems in any city form an added expense to the up-to-date merchant, business man or progressive resident who wishes to keep abreast of his competitors and friends. There are many persons who subscribe for one telephone who do not install the other in order to prevent a competitor from gaining their patronage, it is necessary to install and pay for both telephones. Coupled with the increased expense the added inconvenience of answering two telephones and of examining two books when trying to communicate with a patron serves to irritate the busy man.

Two telephone systems mean a duplication of service an added expense for upkeep, maintenance and extensions. The public must pay the bill if the companies operate without a loss and experience proves that the average telephone company is not in business for fun. Since the creation of the public utilities commission, there is no advantage to the public from competition between the rival companies, as the commissioners have it within their power to fix rates and prevent the companies from charging an exorbitant price for service.

The merger of the telephone companies in Ohio is desired by every one who has suffered the annoyance of having two telephones in his place of business. The public has everything to gain and the elimination of one system will be a source of gratification to all telephone users.

INTEREST INCREASES IN PAVING PROBLEMS

PAVING POWERS OF COUNCIL ARE BROAD

Interpretation of Statute Covering Proceedings Is That No Petition For Improvement Is Necessary When Council Decides That Improvement Should be Made—The Various Paving Projects Now Before Public.

With the opening of the summer season interest begins to center about the question of street paving and improving. The question is general and freely discussed and the outcome of the street situation this summer is awaited with deep interest.

The majority of the proposed street improvements, including the more important, remain prospective, and to date but one street paving job can be counted on definitely. This is the section of Main street, between Market and Temple streets in the Cherry hotel block. The contract for the brickwork of this section of street is to be let Saturday and it is the present intention of property owners along Temple street, between Main and Hinde, to pave that section when the other work has been completed.

The paving of the Main street block is greeted with general satisfaction as this portion of the street, plentifully dotted with hollows and ruts, has been a source of annoyance for years.

The paving projects awaited with most interest at the present time are those of Washington avenue, North street, Circle avenue and Oakland avenue.

The fate of the Washington avenue paving now lies with the Court of Appeals, having been carried up from the Common Pleas court by the plaintiffs recently when that court favored the city in a decision providing for the continuance of the work.

As yet, the N. North street project is in its infancy. No decisive legislation has been passed by Council to date but the committee appointed from that body to investigate is scheduled to report at Monday night's meeting and it is thought the matter will be carried on rapidly.

Another committee is expected to make a report Monday on the Circle avenue investigation. All the legislation for this improvement was completed by the last council and it remains now but for Council to say the word.

On the Oakland avenue deal the greatest difficulty is to be encountered. Like the Circle avenue project, virtually all necessary steps were taken by the last council, but with the interpretation of the new frontage law, providing that property owners are to be assessed for the entire side footage of their lots, instead of the frontage alone, as formerly, most of the property holders along this street have arraigned themselves against the improvement. Oakland avenue is located in the Elmwood addition and is about three blocks in length terminating at one end in Clinton avenue and at the other, in Leesburg avenue. This matter is calculated to come in for a great deal of attention, and contention, at the next meeting of Council.

As it has been calculated, Washington avenue, N. North street and the section of street on Main from Market to Temple will be constructed of brick; the Circle avenue improvement will be of brick center and concrete siding; the block of improvement to be made by the Temple street residents will be of concrete and the Oakland paving of macadam.

The powers of Council, in taking up the question of paving, has been the subject of no little discussion, but Solicitor Pope Gregg, when asked as to his interpretation of the statute under which Council can act in passing paving legislation, stated that Council is endowed with broad powers and that under the statute Council could, if the improvement was by Council deemed necessary, pass legislation for the paving of almost any street in the city, and that a petition was not essential for the improvement. In other words the interpretation means that the powers of Council in regard to street paving, are practically unlimited, and that whether a petition for the improvement is filed, or whether Council sees fit to pass a resolution declaring it necessary to improve a street, the final result may be the same.

In the Washington avenue case, Judge Curtin, in his decision, held that when two-thirds of the members of Council concurred in declaring the improvement necessary, their action was legal.

JEFFERSONVILLE GRADUATING CLASS PLAY SCORES BIG HIT

Dramatic Presentation of the Story of "Endymion" by Graduates Draws Capacity Audience at Jefferson Hall Last Night—Orchestral Music Pleasing.

Crowded to the utmost of its capacity by one of the largest crowds it has ever accommodated was Jefferson hall, Jeffersonville, Tuesday night, at the commencement exercises of the 1914 high school graduating class. Many were unable to gain admittance.

Following the presentation of diplomas and in place of regular oratorical commencement exercises, the class offered a highly agreeable novelty in the dramatic presentation of "Endymion", the quaint and ever beautiful old legend of Greek mythology.

To say that the performance was good is to put it too lightly. Each of the twenty graduates, the unusually large number in this year's class, was a star in his or her own particular role.

Deserving of particular mention are Charles Seibert, who masterfully played the title role; Ruth Ladd, as Phrynia, Endymion's sweetheart; Harold Zimmerman, as Eumenides, his friend; Oma Wood, as Kallisthene, Eumenides' betrothed; Helen Fults, as Artemis, Goddess of the Chase and Moon; Omar Wilson, as Hermes, Messenger of the Gods; Candace Haigler, as Morpheus, God of Sleep; Florence Ervin, as Pan, God of the Dryads, and Russell Bowers and Addie Fults as King Aeolus and Queen Hermia, parents of Endymion.

The story is that of a Goddess, Artemis, who loves a mortal Endymion, son of a king, whom she would make immortal, and to accomplish her purpose inveigles him into a wood and there casts a spell of sleep over him. Endymion, at the price of his wakefulness, refuses to follow Artemis in preference to his sweetheart, Phrynia. All else failing, Eumenides, Endymion's friend offers his dearest possession, Kallisthene's love, to restore his friend to wakefulness, but the Goddess repents her action and removing her spell blesses the lovers.

The play scored the biggest hit and received the warmest applause that has ever been accorded an amateur performance in Jeffersonville, and its great success was responsible in a large measure to the assistance of the Jeffersonville orchestra which supplied the musical features and accompaniments.

ing instead of linsey, threshing machines instead of flails; the self-binder instead of the sickle; the corn planter, the telephone, the daily mail, the newspaper, the drainage system, the wireless telegraph, the heating stove and furnace, the cotton gin, etc. A thousand other giant strides that have been made by civilization and genius during the lifetime of this one person, whose lips are now sealed forever, could be mentioned, causing the thoughtful to bow the head in reverence and awe before the throne of the All Wise power that directs us.

DOCTOR RECOVERING FROM UGLY WOUNDS

Dr. A. J. Gaskins, of Sabina, is recovering from painful injuries sustained a few days ago, when a huge transom fell upon him, and the broken glass inflicted wounds which might easily have caused death.

Dr. Gaskins was standing in front of his furniture store when the big transom, 4 by 6 feet, fell upon him. When the transom struck his head the glass was shattered and the frame fell about him. Besides gashes cut across the head and face, an artery was severed in one foot.

He hurried to a brother physician's office where the flow of blood was stopped, but not before he had become very weak from loss of blood.

BRAKEMAN FALLS FROM CAR ROOF

P. O. Brown, D. T. & I. brakeman, well known here, met with a painful though not serious accident Tuesday afternoon and as a result will be laid off several days.

Brown was a member of the crew of the northbound local No. 46, which was switching some cars along the C. A. & C. storage track. He was riding the top of a car that had been "cut loose" and was setting the brake when he lost his balance and fell to the road bed below, dislocating his right wrist and sustaining several severe abrasions of the face. Brown, with his characteristic stoicism, made his way unaided to the office of Dr. D. H. Rowe where his injuries were attended. He returned to his home in Springfield Tuesday night.

FOREIGN TRADE AND RAILROADS

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—The importance of foreign trade to the railroads was discussed at the National Foreign Trade Convention here today by Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway, who said that there was no doubt of the eagerness of transportation lines, both steamship and railway, to afford ample service in the building up of a foreign trade, but the present difficulty was the irregularity with which the manufacturers of the United States took up the invasion of foreign markets.

"Our home market is so large," he said, "that, as to the producers of many manufactured articles, it is difficult to interest them in export business, except as an outlet for surplus production during times of depression in the United States. Service to foreign markets cannot be provided merely to meet such contingencies nor can trade relations be established upon such an uncertain footing. The wiser course would seem to be for our manufacturers to seek the development of permanent and regular export trade as supplementary to their business in the United States. Then, if at any time their home demand should decline, they will be better protected in the maintenance of organization and output and will be better prepared to take advantage of trade conditions in other countries, which are frequently the reverse of our own."

He pointed out that the railroads were making efforts to bring about an increase in foreign commerce, and as an instance he cited the action of the Southern Railway in appointing a "South American agent" a man who was for a long time in the consular service in South America and whose sole business was to be the building up of export traffic to Central and South American countries.

The Process of Dry Milk

While the milk is new (still warm) it is turned into a large tank from which it comes in a fine spray, falling on swiftly revolving red-hot copper cylinders; just before it touches the cylinders all the moisture leaves it and it falls in the form of tiny white flakes on white silk trays; it is dried again in 150 degrees of heat for two hours then packed in air-tight barrels. LEESBURG PIKE CONTRACT IS TO BE LET JUNE 16

June 16 is the date set by the state highway department for the letting of the contract for the construction of a section a little over a mile in length, of what is known as the Hillsboro-Washington inter-county road, better known as the Leesburg pike.

The Leesburg pike improvement is to consist of 1.06 miles, 14 feet wide, to be constructed of paving brick, and the estimated cost is $17,069.67.

The contract calls for completion of the improvement by October 1, 1914.

The improvement will begin at the corporation line near the fair grounds and will extend in a southerly direction.

It is probable that on July 1 a similar amount will be let on the Springfield-Washington road (Jeffersonville pike) and also on the Washington-London road (Bloomingburg and Midway pike), the latter being an extension of the work now in progress near Bloomingburg.

The total amount to be expended on all three roads in 1914 by the Highway department, including the sum to be furnished by the county, will be about $56,000.

MADISON COUNTY COMMISSIONERS BUSY

The Madison county commissioners on Monday sold $30,000 worth of bonds to the Ohio National bank, of Columbus, at a premium of $574. The proceeds of the sale are for the improvement of the London and Marysville and the Madison and Fayette pikes under the inter-county highway law. Under this law the state, county, township and land owners join in paying for the improvement.—London Democrat.

DRY WEATHER STOPS WORK IN THE FIELD

The dry weather has, in many instances, stopped the work of planting corn, the farmers awaiting rain so that their ground may be placed in condition for the reception of the crop.

As a result of the delay there will be considerable June planted corn in Fayette county this season.

Believers in "signs" are anticipating a big corn crop this season, owing to the abundance of blossoms on the locust trees. Plenty of locust blossoms is regarded as indicative of a plentiful corn crop.

ANOTHER SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY

Julia James Polly, colored, of Cedarville, charged with contributing to the delinquency of 14-year-old Carrie Shull, whose father is now in the penitentiary, where he was sentenced for admitting a similar charge as that preferred against the woman, was this week found guilty and sentenced to the penitentiary for an indefinite period.

Former Marshal Kennon, of Cedarville, still faces a charge similar to that which sent Shull and the Polly woman to the penitentiary.

INTEREST INCREASES IN PAVING PROBLEMS

PAVING POWERS OF COUNCIL ARE BROAD

Interpretation of Statute Covering Proceedings Is That No Petition For Improvement Is Necessary When Council Decides That Improvement Should be Made—The Various Paving Projects Now Before Public.

With the opening of the summer season interest begins to center about the question of street paving and improving. The question is general and freely discussed and the outcome of the street situation this summer is awaited with deep interest.

The majority of the proposed street improvements, including the more important, remain prospective, and to date but one street paving job can be counted on definitely. This is the section of Main street, between Market and Temple streets in the Cherry hotel block. The contract for the bricking of this section of street is to be let Saturday and it is the present intention of property owners along Temple street, between Main and Hinde, to pave that section when the other work has been completed.

The paving of the Main street block is greeted with general satisfaction as this portion of the street, plentifully dotted with hollows and ruts, has been a source of annoyance for years.

The paving projects awaited with most interest at the present time are those of Washington avenue, North street, Circle avenue and Oakland avenue.

The fate of the Washington avenue paving now lies with the Court of Appeals, having been carried up from the Common Pleas court by the plaintiffs recently when that court favored the city in a decision providing for the continuance of the work.

As yet, the N. North street project is in its infancy. No decisive legislation has been passed by Council to date but the committee appointed from that body to investigate is scheduled to report at Monday night's meeting and it is thought the matter will be carried on rapidly.

Another committee is expected to make a report Monday on the Circle avenue investigation. All the legislation for this improvement was completed by the last council and it remains now but for Council to say the word.

On the Oakland avenue deal the greatest difficulty is to be encountered. Like the Circle avenue project, virtually all necessary steps were taken by the last council, but with the interpretation of the new frontage law, providing that property owners are to be assessed for the entire side footage of their lots, instead of the frontage alone, as formerly, most of the property holders along this street have arraigned themselves against the improvement. Oakland avenue is located in the Elmwood addition and is about three blocks in length terminating at one end in Clinton avenue and at the other, in Leesburg avenue. This matter is calculated to come in for a great deal of attention, and contention, at the next meeting of Council.

As it has been calculated, Washington avenue, N. North street and the section of street on Main from Market to Temple will be constructed of brick; the Circle avenue improvement will be of brick center and concrete siding; the block of improvement to be made by the Temple street residents will be of concrete and the Oakland paving of macadam.

The powers of Council, in taking up the question of paving, has been the subject of no little discussion, but Solicitor Pope Gregg, when asked as to his interpretation of the statute under which Council can act in passing paving legislation, stated that Council is endowed with broad powers and that under the statute Council could, if the improvement was by Council deemed necessary, pass legislation for the paving of almost any street in the city, and that a petition was not essential for the improvement. In other words the interpretation means that the powers of Council in regard to street paving, are practically unlimited, and that whether a petition for the improvement is filed, or whether Council sees fit to pass a resolution declaring it necessary to improve a street, the final result may be the same.

In the Washington avenue case, Judge Curtin, in his decision, held that when two-thirds of the members of Council concurred in declaring the improvement necessary, their action was legal.

JEFFERSONVILLE GRADUATING CLASS PLAY SCORES BIG HIT

Crowded to the utmost of its capacity by one of the largest crowds it has ever accommodated was Jefferson hall, Jeffersonville, Tuesday night, at the commencement exercises of the 1914 high school graduating class. Many were unable to gain admittance.

Following the presentation of diplomas and in place of regular oratorical commencement exercises, the class offered a highly agreeable novelty in the dramatic presentation of "Endymion", the quaint and ever beautiful old legend of Greek mythology.

To say that the performance was good is to put it too lightly. Each of the twenty graduates, the unusually large number in this year's class, was a star in his or her own particular role.

REMARKABLE PERIOD COVERED BY LIFE

All that was mortal of the late Martha Popejoy was laid to rest in Washington cemetery Tuesday afternoon, following short, simple funeral services at her late home on the old Frankfort road, two miles east of Bloomingburg. The deceased attained the remarkable age of a little over 97 years, and she spent her entire life on the farm on which she was born. For many years the deceased kept house with her brother, Lewis Popejoy, who is now in his 83rd year.

A sister, Mrs. Susan Counts, of near Danville, Madison county, is in her 100th year, but is in very feeble health.

The deceased was probably the oldest person in the county and her passing removes from our midst a pioneer who lived to see this section of Ohio transformed from woodland and swamp to a land of prosperity and healthfulness, interspersed with fine homes, villages and cities, and traversed with a grand system of highways and railways. The most remarkable changes and improvements in the history of the world came during her life time, marking the advent of more accomplishment for the benefit, convenience and pleasure of mankind than in all the preceding ages. A few of the more noteworthy things that Martha Popejoy lived to see come to man are the ordinary lamps, gas and electricity, instead of candles, modern houses, steel buildings and skyscrapers instead of log huts; buggies, automobiles, traction cars, aeroplanes, instead of couriers; high-class cloth-

P. O. Brown, D. T. & I. brakeman, well known here, met with a painful though not serious accident Tuesday afternoon and as a result will be laid off several days.

Brown was a member of the crew of the northbound local No. 46, which was switching some cars along the C. A. & C. storage track. He was riding the top of a car that had been "cut loose" and was setting the brake when he lost his balance and fell to the road bed below, dislocating his right wrist and sustaining several severe abrasions of the face. Brown, with his characteristic stoicism, made his way unaided to the office of Dr. D. H. Rowe where his injuries were attended. He returned to his home in Springfield Tuesday night.

ALL BANKS WILL CLOSE SATURDAY

All banks in the city will observe Memorial day by closing, Saturday, and business men and others who have occasion to use any large amount of change will make preparations accordingly.

The usual holiday hours will be observed at the postoffice, and there will be no rural mail Saturday.

these, Eumenides' betrothed; Helen Fults, as Artemis, Goddess of the Chase and Moon; Omar Wilson, as Hermes, Messenger of the Gods; Candace Haigler, as Morpheus, God of Sleep; Florence Ervin, as Pan, God of the Dryads, and Russell Bowers and Addie Fults as King Aeolus and Queen Hermia, parents of Endymion.

The story is that of a Goddess, Artemis, who loves a mortal Endymion, son of a king, whom she would make immortal, and to accomplish her purpose inveigles him into a wood and there casts a spell of sleep over him. Endymion, at the price of his wakefulness, refuses to follow Artemis in preference to his sweetheart, Phrynia. All else failing, Eumenides, Endymion's friend offers his dearest possession, Kallisthene's love, to restore his friend to wakefulness, but the Goddess repents her action and removing her spell blesses the lovers.

The play scored the biggest hit and received the warmest applause that has ever been accorded an amateur performance in Jeffersonville, and its great success was responsible in a large measure to the assistance of the Jeffersonville orchestra which supplied the musical features and accompaniments.

ing instead of linsey, threshing machines instead of flails; the self-binder instead of the sickle; the corn planter, the telephone, the daily mail, the newspaper, the drainage system, the wireless telegraph, the heating stove and furnace, the cotton gin, etc. A thousand other giant strides that have been made by civilization and genius during the lifetime of this one person, whose lips are now sealed forever, could be mentioned, causing the thoughtful to bow the head in reverence and awe before the throne of the All Wise power that directs us.

Dr. A. J. Gaskins, of Sabina, is recovering from painful injuries sustained a few days ago, when a huge transom fell upon him, and the broken glass inflicted wounds which might easily have caused death.

Dr. Gaskins was standing in front of his furniture store when the big transom, 4 by 6 feet, fell upon him. When the transom struck his head the glass was shattered and the frame fell about him. Besides gashes cut across the head and face, an artery was severed in one foot.

He hurried to a brother physician's office where the flow of blood was stopped, but not before he had become very weak from loss of blood.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—The importance of foreign trade to the railroads was discussed at the National Foreign Trade Convention here today by Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway, who said that there was no doubt of the eagerness of transportation lines, both steamship and railway, to afford ample service in the building up of a foreign trade, but the present difficulty was the irregularity with which the manufacturers of the United States took up the invasion of foreign markets.

"Our home market is so large," he said, "that, as to the producers of many manufactured articles, it is difficult to interest them in export business, except as an outlet for surplus production during times of depression in the United States. Service to foreign markets cannot be provided merely to meet such contingencies nor can trade relations be established upon such an uncertain footing. The wiser course would seem to be for our manufacturers to seek the development of permanent and regular export trade as supplementary to their business in the United States. Then, if at any time their home demand should decline, they will be better protected in the maintenance of organization and output and will be better prepared to take advantage of trade conditions in other countries, which are frequently the reverse of our own."

He pointed out that the railways were making efforts to bring about an increase in foreign commerce, and as an instance he cited the action of the Southern Railway in appointing a "South American agent" a man who was for a long time in the consular service in South America and whose sole business was to be the building up of export traffic to Central and South American countries.

The Process of Dry Milk

While the milk is new (still warm) it is turned into a large tank from which it comes in a fine spray, falling on swiftly revolving red-hot copper cylinders; just before it touches the cylinders all the moisture leaves it and it falls in the form of tiny white flakes on white silk trays; it is dried again in 150 degrees of heat for two hours then packed in air-tight barrels. All of this is done in one of the big Milk-Chocolate factories, and everyone knows their cows are tested and rated AA, A1. We add the water ourselves and use it in our famous

Reports from Ross county bring the unwelcome news that unless copious showers fall within the next day or two there will be no strawberries from the large strawberry patches in the Chillicothe and Frankfort districts.

LEESBURG PIKE CONTRACT IS TO BE LET JUNE 16

June 16 is the date set by the state highway department for the letting of the contract for the construction of a section a little over a mile in length, of what is known as the Hillsboro-Washington inter-county road, better known as the Leesburg pike.

The Leesburg pike improvement is to consist of 1.06 miles, 14 feet wide, to be constructed of paving brick, and the estimated cost is $17,069.67.

The contract calls for completion of the improvement by October 1, 1914.

The improvement will begin at the corporation line near the fair grounds and will extend in a southerly direction.

It is probable that on July 1 a similar amount will be let on the Springfield-Washington road (Jeffersonville pike) and also on the Washington-London road (Bloomington and Midway pike), the latter being an extension of the work now in progress near Bloomington.

The total amount to be expended on all three roads in 1914 by the Highway department, including the sum to be furnished by the county, will be about $56,000.

MADISON COUNTY COMMISSIONERS BUSY

The Madison county commissioners on Monday sold $30,000 worth of bonds to the Ohio National bank, of Columbus, at a premium of $574. The proceeds of the sale are for the improvement of the London and Marysville and the Madison and Fayette pikes under the inter-county highway law. Under this law the state, county, township and land owners join in paying for the improvement.—London Democrat.

DRY WEATHER STOPS WORK IN THE FIELD

The dry weather has, in many instances, stopped the work of planting corn, the farmers awaiting rain so that their ground may be placed in condition for the reception of the crop.

As a result of the delay there will be considerable June planted corn in Fayette county this season.

Believers in "signs" are anticipating a big corn crop this season, owing to the abundance of blossoms on the locust trees. Plenty of locust blossoms is regarded as indicative of a plenteous corn crop.

ANOTHER SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY

Julia James Polly, colored, of Cedarville, charged with contributing to the delinquency of 14-year-old Carrie Shull, whose father is now in the penitentiary, where he was sentenced for admitting a similar charge as that preferred against the woman, was this week found guilty and sentenced to the penitentiary for an indefinite period.

Former Marshal Kennon, of Cedarville, still faces a charge similar to that which sent Shull and the Polly woman to the penitentiary.

Zimmerman, Springfield millionaire, to act as his personal representative in Zimmerman's campaign for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, and has taken up the campaign work, which will carry him to every point of importance in the State of Ohio.

His work this week will be confined to south-central Ohio.

PEACE OUTLOOK VERY FAVORABLE

Mediation Conference Agrees Upon Important Suggestions.

AMERICAN DELEGATES TALK

First Day of Actual Discussion of Issues Involved in Mexican Tangle
Augurs Well For Successful Outcome of the Proceedings at Niagara Falls—Speedy Settlement Believed Imminent.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 27.—After
the first day of actual discussion of the issues involved in the Mexican tangle, the outlook for a successful outcome of the mediation conferences
now being held here is better than at any period since the meetings began.

Tangible and carefully studied suggestions for the early pacification of Mexico and the installation of a permanent government to bring about the needed peace for the southern republic were definitely agreed upon
when they were submitted to the American delegates, Justice Lamar
and Frederick W. Lehman, by ambassador Da Gama of Brazil and Ministers Naon and Suarez Mulca of Argentine and Chile. These suggestions had previously been sanctioned by the Mexican delegates, Senor Esra-
basa, Rodriguez and Elguero.

The questions which still remain unsolved include several of the most vital issues involved, but all present
indications afford good reason to believe that these will be settled promptly and that the proceedings will be brought to a head within short notice.

So eager are both mediators and delegates to arrive at an early solution that no delay will be allowed to hold up the proceedings. All have agreed to hold three and even four sessions a day if needed.

The most important session of the conference was held when the three South American envoys conferred for more than an hour with Justice Lamar and Mr. Lehman. After the conference Justice Lamar made the following statement: "We have agreed upon a certain number of suggestions
for the solution of the present difficulty, but several other important suggestions still remain to be discussed. The outlook is very favorable."

No further comment on the nature of the suggestions which had been agreed upon was obtained from the delegates, but careful inquiry among those who know revealed the fact that they include some of the most vital of the issues involved. A carefully prepared plan drawn up by the three mediators after hearing the claims and demands of both the United States and the Mexican delegates
has been agreed upon in principle.

It is understood that provision has been made for the installation of a temporary government to step in at once in General Huerta's place and
to remain in power until constitutional elections have been held and a

president and congress lawfully elected. It is understood that President Wilson is prepared to pledge the support of the United States in the reorganization of internal affairs in Mexico, provided full guarantee is given that the reforms promised will be fulfilled and the program for the restoration of peace completely carried out.

Prompt recognition of this new government by the United States would be forthcoming, it is said, and should the elections result in the election of General Huerta, he too
would be immediately recognized.

FEDERALS HOLDING TO THEIR GROUND

Mexico City, May 27.—Advises received at the war office are that the situation in San Luis Potosi is unchanged, while the federals under General Oeda are holding Mazatlan.
Business men are in better spirits
than they have been for some time,
owing to the action of the government in relieving from the national mint 50,000 pesos for the use of trade.

AGREE TO AMEND ANTI-TRUST BILL

of Organized Labor.

OPPOSITION IS FADING AWAY

Proposed Amendment Will Exempt
Labor, Fraternal, Agricultural and Consumers' Organizations From Operations of the New Act—Anti-
Trust Measures All Likely To Be Disposed of This Week.

Washington, May 27.—Opposition
within Democratic ranks to demands of labor for amendments to the omnibus anti-trust bill virtually collapsed while the house was concluding general debate on the measure.

Conferences at the White House
and at the Capitol resulted in an understanding that when the house resumes final consideration of the bill
tomorrow, under the five-minute rule,

GIANT LINER SINKS BARGES

New York, May 27.—The great steamship Vaterland, which took nearly four hours to dock when she came to this port on her maiden voyage recently, sank two coal barges
as she steamed out of her berth.
Backing out under her own steam,
her momentum carried her across the Hudson and she slipped in between two piers, where the coal barges, carrying 500 tons of coal each, were tied.
Both barges went down almost at once, but no lives were lost.

FOUND DEAD

Sidney, O., May 27.—Abe Herzstam, 74, business man, was found dead in bed by member of the family. He was a clothing merchant here for nearly 50 years.

SPLITS HEAD WITH A HOE

Kenton, O., May 27.—Using a garden hoe as a weapon, Neil Perry, a farmer residing near McGuffey, west
of here, struck Benjamin Howard, 25,
over the head and knocked him unconscious. Convulsion of the brain developed and Howard is in a critical condition. Perry declares he acted in self-defense when Howard drew a knife. Perry has not been arrested.
When Howard was taken home his sister, Mrs. Nancy Allen, enraged, took a knife and went to seek Perry.
She was arrested, but released because there was no one at home to take care of Howard.

CARRANZA IS CHESTY

El Paso, Tex., May 27.—General
Carranza, head of the Constitutionalists, has instructed his representative at Niagara Falls to lay before the American delegates a rigid insistence that the resignation of Huerta must carry also the elimination of all his adherents in the selection of a provisional government pending the holding of elections. Another objection of Carranza is said to be based on the disposition of Huerta representatives to take no definite action on the agrarian problem, contending that a solution properly lies with the Mexican congress. Carranza's claim is that the revolution is based primarily upon the agrarian problem.

TEDDY USES MILD WORDS

Washington, May 27.—Theodore Roosevelt made the first public statement on politics to which he has given utterance since he returned to the United States. He couched his observations in temperate language
and he did not have a harsh word to say about the Republican party or Republican leaders. Mr. Roosevelt eulogized the Progressive congressmen and announced that he would take his part in the campaign this year. He said that he would speak in Pennsylvania and possibly California.
Mr. Roosevelt will make his initial appearance at the Progressive conference to be held in Pittsburgh on June 30 to further the candidacy of Gifford Pinchot for the senate.

CRITIC AND LAYMAN APPRECIATE HARPIN

Of the musical attractions which will be heard here during Chautauqua week, and they are many and varied,
none will give greater pleasure, alike
to the musical critic, who demands
the finest technique, and to the layman, who asks only that music be well and entertainingly rendered,
than the Chautauqua Festival Artists,
headed by Dr. A. J. Harpin, the celebrated New England basso, whose transcontinental tours of the past few years have been continual ova-tions.

Dr. Harpin is so widely and well known that commendation of him seems superfluous. He possesses a rich bass voice of exceptional compass, an artistic temperament which permits him to make the most of all the dramatic qualities in the selections which he offers, and a personality which at once attracts and in-

Dr. A. J. HARPIN.
of oratorios are comprehensive and convincing. His operatic songs are resplendent with virility. His selections in lighter vein are given with a vim and sparkle which demand en-cores.

Musical critics throughout the country have pronounced him one of the finest basses of recent years, and freely predict for him a future of still greater renown. Reared as he has been in the very center of the nation's musical culture, Dr. Harpin, in his recitals, gives evidence of careful training, and evidences the art impressions of the New England environment, pleasing in wonderful degree
those who demand the very best in music. In addition to meeting the demands of culture, he satisfies those who ask only the qualities of good entertainment. His selections are chosen to please audiences of all kinds.

Accompanying artists measure up
in every respect, and the ensemble insures one of the real musical treats
of the year.

SILLIMAN TALKS NOT

Vera Cruz, Mexico, May 27.—John
R. Silliman, vice consul at Saltillo, whose arrest and subsequent disappearance came near breaking up all mediation between the United States
and Mexico, has arrived at Vera Cruz.
Pale, so weak that he had to lean on the arm of a soldier as he traversed
the long break in the railroad into the American lines, Mr. Silliman refused to avail himself of the stretcher sent to carry him. "Oh, I am all right," he declared, "just a little weak from the fever. I will gain strength at once."

Mr. Silliman would not discuss his experiences except to say: "I have no blame for General Huerta for my experiences. General Joaquin Maas,
the federal commander, was solely responsible for it all."
The vice consul came into the capital without an escort, but in company with other refugees. Mrs. Silliman was not with him, she being a guest of the British consulate at Saltillo.

FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

Are Told How to Regain Strength
and Vigor.

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and less effectively than in youth, the circulation is poor, the blood thin and digestion weak.

iron tonic without oil is the ideal strengthening and body-builder for old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

Mrs. Mary Ivey, of Columbus, Ga., says: "If people only knew the good Vinol does old people, I am sure you would be unable to supply the demand. I never took anything before that did me so much good as Vinol.
It is the finest tonic and strength
creator I ever used in my life."

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble
old people, and create strength we

HUERTA A REFUGEE?

Vera Cruz, May 27.—A report is in circulation that General Huerta has fled from Mexico City. The source of the report is not known, but its circulation excited the highest army
circles and there was much cabling and wireless reports to the United States.

It is said that General Huerta, accompanied only by a few very close
day afternoon and got aboard a car of a train bound for the south. If Huerta goes to Puerto Mexico he will find awaiting him the Ypiranga, the German steamship which has never unloaded its ammunition, and the German cruiser, the Dresden.

the estate the law gives her. The remainder of the real and personal

Barr, leaving a note declaring that his slaying of his sweetheart, Florence Bentley, at Downers Grove, three miles from here, was accidental, jumped beneath a moving train here and was killed. It was his fourth attempt at suicide. In the note he said that he took a drug twice in an effort to die beside the body of his sweetheart, but both times failed. He next jumped into a quarry pit.

TRAVERS AND OUIMET WIN

Versailles, France, May 27. — The defeat of Chick Evans at the hands of another American, Henry J. Travers, and the victory of Francis Ouimet over Charles A. Palmer, the conqueror of Travers at Sandwich, were the features which stood out at the end of an interesting day's play in the French amateur golf championship at La Bouille. Travers, the American champion, easily disposed of his English opponent.

SIG. JOSEPH QUINTANO.

FROM New York City will come Sig. Joseph Quintano and his famous Royal Italian Band to fill a day's engagement here during Chautauqua week, playing a brilliant program afternoon and evening.

This band has filled long engagements at Madison Square Garden, New York Central Palace; Happy Land Park, Staten Island; Bay Shore Park, Baltimore, and many other places.

From an artistic standpoint, and from the attitude of the average listener who wants to be pleased, the programs of this band leave nothing to be desired.

There is a reaction from the cheap shows and the people want something educational—hence the Chautauqua growth. They have come to stay and great good will be accomplished.—Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis.

MISS LUCY J. PRICE.

TO OPPOSE Woman Suffrage in our state, especially in a joint debate with Mrs. Robert M. LaFollette arguing in favor, requires much courage.

That is what Lucy J. Price of Cleveland, has in abundance. She will appear in the joint debate on Women's Day, during Chautauqua week.

Miss Price was raised in the west, and is fond of outdoor sports. She is a splendid horsewoman and plays a good game of tennis.

Also, it is said, she can "speak some" when it comes to opposing Woman Suffrage. Anyway, she is Secretary of the Ohio Association Opposed to Equal Suffrage, and rated as one of their best speakers.

Providing you are eligible under the classifications prescribed by us you are now offered an excellent opportunity to break away from the drudgery and toil of a small wage, or working for the benefit of landlords, and go back to a land of plenty to which, if granted, you will hold a warranty deed and abstract.

The best security on earth is the earth itself, and land is the basis of all wealth. Owners of productive lands are benefitting by the increasing high cost of living, while others are suffering from it.

An Opportunity to Secure Rich Productive Land Without Capital

You will not be required to leave your present surroundings now. All we ask of those to whom we grant tracts is that they plant, or arrange to have planted, a crop of one of the above-mentioned products within three years, after which we will have it operated (harvested and replanted) for grantee, in consideration of 25 per cent. of the net profits derived from the sale of the crops, thereby allowing the grantee to pursue his or her present occupation until such time as they determine just what the yield of their acres amounts to. Consider what this may mean as a source of income, when statistics show that the yield of one acre of celery amounted to $1,268.45, and that one acre of well-cared-for paper shell pecans in full bearing should net its owner as high as $500.00 per year. We are of the opinion that after it is proven by actual results obtained in operation, the land that they will need no further urging, and waste no time in locating in this land of plenty. We also require grantees to occupy the land within ten years, or sell it to some one who will occupy it; otherwise it reverts back to the grantor.

The land included in this opening is located directly on and adjoining the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, about twenty-five miles west of Brunswick, a thriving city of fifteen thousand, having direct steamship service to New York and Boston, and excellent railroad transportation facilities to all points. The average temperature for six months of the year, from April to October, is 77 degrees; the climate is most healthful, delightful and invigorating, and there is an ample rainfall of 51 inches per year.

As we are extremely desirous of having settlers locate on this property and assist in its development, and thereby greatly increase the value of surrounding and intervening property, which we will have, we will increase the traffic along the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, and thus facilitate the service, we feel warranted in granting these tracts to those who register with us. We also have in mind business and residence plots which we will offer for sale after the opening, but which will not be included in it. We have "money-making afterward" considerations in this liberal-minded opening similar to those of the Northern Pacific and other railroads when they granted their lands and we expect to benefit thereby as well as the ones who will receive the tracts.

We have also planned to develop what is designed to be the best equipped, most up-to-date, scientific, commercial farm and orchard in existence. It will consist of six thousand acres, and will be included in this opening. All who register and receive tracts will get the benefit of the experiments and scientific methods in vogue thereon. While we are arranging to prevent over-registration we will avoid many disappointments, such as occurred in other land openings conducted by the United States Government and railroads, by granting those who register in excess of the number of tracts to be granted an interest in this commercial farm and orchard enterprise, in the hope that they may later locate in one of our town sites.

Examination of the land will cheerfully be permitted and the opening will be held at Brownstown, Wayne County, Georgia, one of the stations of the A. B. & A. Railroad, which is located on this property, and will occur as soon after the closing of registrations as arrangements can be made.

The presence of those registered will not be necessary at Brownstown on the opening day, unless they wish to attend; there will be no favoritism shown anyone. It will be conducted by a committee selected for the purpose, and those registered will be notified of what they have been granted as soon as possible.

With the ever increasing population of this country there is no corresponding increase of the area of land, naturally as the population increases and seeks the land in pursuit of health, happiness and independence, it will continue to be harder to secure.

The prosperous and contented class in Europe today are the descendants of those who secured land in this country plentiful, while the descendants of those who obtained no land are now the peasants and slaves. You must realize that this may be your last chance to secure land in this country without a large outlay of capital, so it should not be necessary to urge you to act at once by forwarding us the application for registration attached to this announcement.

GLENN FRANK MAKES HIS HEARERS THINK

His Lecture Here Will Be Along Sociological Lines.

The present is a day of readjustments. The rise of democracy is engrossing the attention of the world's greatest thinkers. The people are making an imperious demand for the control of their own affairs. Every nation in the world is shaken by the movement, and history is being quietly made in the slow moving of a mighty current.

In America the evidences of the movement are everywhere. Education, commerce, industry, art, letters, statecraft, are feeling the presence of a new spirit moving in the hearts of the people. Political machines are tottering in the rush of the waters; social dynasties are crumbling. A revolution, not of blood, but of mind, is remaking America. A new declaration of independence is being written.

Of the younger generation of profound thinkers, none has left a greater impress upon the people than Glenn Frank of Northwestern University, and none has made an abler contribution to the ferment which is building a new and a better America. Mr. Frank could be a great humorist if he would; a great writer; a great preacher; for he has the mental equipment and the high ideals essential to the achievement of greatness along any of these lines. But his heart is on fire with a desire for service in the great arena of social reform, and he has given himself unreservedly to the platform, where his lectures on sociological themes, correct in premise, logical in construction, irrefutable in conclusion, and clothed in chaste language, have been universally acclaimed as masterpieces of convincing platform presentation. They voice the most advanced thought of the present day on the great problems of social and industrial justice. His hearers may not all agree with him, but they will THINK—and that, after all, is the important thing, for when the American people really think, they inevitably think JUSTICE.

Mr. Frank's lecture here on the Chautauqua platform will be in connection with Community Betterment Day, an eminently proper placing, for his addresses are not only community building, but nation building in scope.

express my high admiration and regard for Col. Bondon and his associates who have been my colleagues in this work of exploration. In the third place I wish to point out that what we have just done was rendered possible only by the hard and perilous labor of the Brazilian Telegraphic commission in the unexplored western wilderness of Matte Grosse during the last seven years. We have merely put the cap on the pyramid of which they had previously laid deep and broad the foundation. We have had a hard and somewhat dangerous, but very successful trip.
"No less than six weeks were spent in slowly and with peril and exhausting labor forcing our way down through what seemed a literally endless succession of rapids and cataracts. For forty-eight days we saw no human being. In passing these rapids we lost five of the seven canoes with which we started and had to build others. One of our best men lost his life in the rapids. Unde the strain one of the men went completely mad, shirked all his work, stole his comrades' food and when punished by the sergeant he with cold blooded deliberation murdered the sergeant and fled into the wilderness.
Col. Bondon's dog, running ahead of him while hunting, was shot by two Indians; by his death he in all probability saved the life of his master. We have put on the map a river about 1,500 kilometers in length running from just south of the 13th degree to north of the 5th degree and the biggest affluent of the Madeira. Until now its upper course has been utterly unknown to everyone, and its lower course although known for years to the rubber men, utterly unknown to all cartographers. Its course is between the 12th and 13th parallels of latitude north, and between longitude 59 degrees and longitude 60 degrees west from Greenwich. We embarked on it about at latitude 12 degrees 1 minute south and longitude 60 degrees 18 west. After that its entire course was between the 60th and 61st degree of longitude approaching the latter most closely about in latitude 8 degrees 15 minutes.
"The first rapids were at Nevarite in 11 degrees 44 minutes and after that they were continuous and very difficult and dangerous until the rapids named after the murdered sergeant Pelshan in 11 degrees 12 minutes. At 11 degrees 25 minutes it receives the Rio Kernit from the left. At 11 degrees 22 minutes the Marciano avila entered it from the right. At 11 degrees 18 minutes the Taunay entered from the left. At 10 degrees 33 minutes the Cardoza entered from the right. At 10 degrees 24 minutes we encountered the first rubber men. The Rio Branco entered from the left at 9 degrees 38 minutes.
"We camped at 8 degrees 49 minutes or approximately the boundary line between the Matte Grosse and Amazonas. The confluence with the Aripuana, which entered from the left was in 7 deg. 34 minutes. The mouth where it entered the Madeira was in five degrees 30 minutes. The stream we have followed down is that which rises farthest away from the mouth and its general course is almost due north.
"My dear sir, I thank you from my heart for the chance to take part in this great work of exploration.
"With high regard and respect, believe me,
Very sincerely yours
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

SAYS ARGENTINA MAY DOMINATE PRICE OF CORN

By Associated Press.
Washington, D. C., May 27.—That Argentine may soon actually dominate the price of corn in the United States, as it is now practically doing, according to fears set forth by H. G. Herget, president of the Illinois Manufacturers Association in an address today before the National Foreign Trade Convention here.
He said:
"With a crop little more than one-tenth of ours, Argentina possesses a surplus which has a price-fixing potentiality equal to our own. This condition will not improve but the range will widen and it would seem that within a few years Argentina will actually dominate the price of corn in this country as it is now doing. Land values and the higher plane of living in the Central states will not admit of competition with Argentina in the growing of wheat and oats. There must be some readjustment of values or else a foreign market must be found, as an outlet for our crops. This will require systematic and continuous advertising to the end that foreign countries will learn that our corn contains more nourishment per pound and per cost than any other."

THERMOMETER AT NINETY DEGREES

This week has seen the hottest days experienced this season. For several hours both on Monday and Wednesday the mercury hovered about the 90 degree mark and at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon ascended to 94.
Late Wednesday afternoon the rising of a cool, refreshing breeze and the reports of heavy electrical storms from various parts of the state gave rise to the anticipation of the long-looked-and-prayed-for rain. A good rain tonight will work wonders for the thirsting fields and highways.

HER LAST WORD.

And It Was Up to Harold to Get What-ever Consolation He Could Out of It.
"Lucy," he said, with all the earnestness at his command, "you have driven me to desperation. I have waited and hoped that you might learn to care for me, but my waiting has been unavailing. Now I am going away, to risk my life, to face whatever dangers may lie in my way."
"Have you made up your mind to join the army?" she asked.
"Yes. I shall go where glory and perhaps fame await me. I shall insist on being in the thick of the fray at all times. There is nothing for me to live for, so why should I fear to die?"
"Please don't say such things, Harold. Surely there is much for you to live for."
"No; if I ever return it will be with the scars of battle upon me. I shall stop at nothing. Wherever dangers are to be faced I shall bear our glorious colors. I shall come back as a hero or I shall not come back at all."
"That should always be a soldier's sentiment. I am glad to hear you speak so nobly."
"Thank you. By saying one word you could keep me from the dangers that must be faced in that desolate country."
"But it is a girl's duty to urge men to be heroic, not to try to persuade them to be deaf to the call to do the splendid thing."
"I suppose you're right. Well, I shall not be deaf to the call."
"I am glad to hear you say that, Harold."
"Goodbye, Lucy."
"Goodbye, Harold."
"Have you no last word to say to me before I leave you?"
"Yes, there is something."
"What is it, Lucy?"
"Don't get shot, Harold—don't even get half shot."—Chicago Record-Herald.

EXCEEDED POWERS

By Associated Press.
Stuebenville, Ohio, May 27.—The Court of Appeals here today ordered the election board of Jefferson county to issue a certificate of election as judge of the Probate court to John G. Belnat. The election certificate was withheld in 1912 on the advice of the secretary of state at that time for alleged violation of the corrupt practices law. The court held that the secretary of state had exercised authority he did not have.

"TAPS" A Memorial Day Poem

THEY are marching with a halting step—
A halting step and slow—
And many in those blue clad ranks
Have hair as white as snow.
Their youth lies on the battlefields
Of fifty years ago.
THOSE faded, tattered flags they bear,
All torn by shot and shell,
Are sacred emblems of the dead
Who loved their country well.
How great their love and sacrifice
No human tongue may tell.
THEIR serried ranks are thinning fast
That once with martial tread
The knapsack and the musket bore
Where Grant and Sherman led.
Their sleep is sound and peaceful
In the bivouac of the dead.

NO more the reveille at dawn
Shall rouse them from their sleep;
No more shall wives and sisters
Mourn;
No more shall mothers weep.
Their names upon the roll of fame
Time's hand has graven deep.

AND some lie on those hard fought fields
Where now the blue and gray
Clasp hands across those battle lines
Their blood has washed away.
Where once the tide of battle flowed
Their children's children play.

THE passing years speed swiftly,
And silence round them wraps,
And to their listening ears there comes
No sweeter song, perhaps,
Than when the battered bugle sounds
Again the old call—"Taps!"

Where His Love Lay.

He was sitting in front of a brightly burning fire talking to her. After a while he said thoughtfully:
"This reminds me of a grate that I used to sit in front of years ago."
"I can well imagine how you enjoyed those evenings," she responded hopefully, "open fires give one such a sense of home." But he went on talking of drafts and heat and ashes and the hygienic condition of a room ventilated by a fireplace.
"I have never known a grate," he continued, "like the one in the home of the girl where I used to go so often."
A long silence followed, the crackling of the fire the only sound in the room. It was broken at last by him in a voice that had echoes of a dear memory in its tones, "You cannot imagine how I loved that—grate!"—New York Post.

ELECTIONS IN FRANCE.

They Are Held on Sunday and Rarely Finished in One Day.
In France elections are held on Sunday. Universal manhood suffrage is the rule. Every Frenchman of twenty-one years of age, on proof of six months' residence, is a legal voter at the elections to the chamber, saving only soldiers on active service and others disqualified for bankruptcy and criminal reasons. Because of the number of candidates the first day's polling in many districts is not final. Where no candidate receives an absolute majority, a second election is held. It often happens that from one-third to one-fourth of the elections for deputies are not finally decided until the second poll, when not infrequently one or more candidates in a district have withdrawn.
The polling begins at 8 in the morning and lasts until 6 in the evening. Instead of regularly appointed clerks and election officials, three volunteers take charge of the "urn" in which the ballots are deposited and conduct the proceedings. One of the penalties of being first to appear is the likelihood of being impressed into service as one of the assessors, of whom two, both independent voters, must serve with the "president of the ballot." The counting of the ballots is also done by volunteers called for from among the electors.
In the absence of the party system it is difficult strictly to classify the candidates. In a general way they range themselves in groups around certain well known political leaders.—New York World.

"It sounds like a drunk smashing up furniture."

REBELS SEEKING REPRESENTATION

By Associated Press.

Washington, May 27.—Representatives of the Constitutionalists here today took steps to reopen the question of representation at the Niagara mediation conference. John Lind and C. A. Douglass, legal representatives of the Constitutionalists, held what was termed a neutral conference early today and later went into the state department to take up the subject with Secretary Bryan who had gone to confer with Senators of the Foreign Relations committee. As a result the meeting had to be deferred.

Neither of the counsels would discuss the subject of the conditions under which the Constitutionalists will participate, but the opinion was revived that the power of a Carranza representative would be limited perhaps without plenary authority and only with the purpose of furnishing information.

PROBE THE BENTON AND BAUCH CASES

By Associated Press.

Washington, May, 27.—Instructions have been sent to American Consul Letcher, at Juarez, to furnish the State Department with additional information in order to complete the record, in as far as possible, in the case of Gustave Bauch, the American mechanic arrested by the Constitutionalists authorities at Juarez, February 18 last, and later it was reported that the department is to reopen the case as well as the Benton case.

The purpose of the instructions, it was expressed today, is to strengthen the case by procuring the few fragments of information still available regarding Bauch's disappearance from the Juarez prison.

SEIGE IN FORCE

By Associated Press.

On Board United States Ship California, Mazatlan, May 26.—Wireless to Santiago, May 27.—The first stage of the siege of Guadalajara was accomplished by the Constitutionalists with the interception of all communication between there and the capital. Information has reached the American fleet that the Constitutionalists have kept the telegraph and railroad lines to Yurecuaro.

READY TO TAKE DEFIANT STAND

By Associated Press.

New York, May 27.—Theodore Roosevelt as president, was ready to take measures "equivalent to action in time of war," to end the great strike in the anthracite mines during his administration. He was determined to take action even though the effort should be made later to impeach him for it. Mr. Roosevelt so testified today in giving testimony before a referee in the suit of Alexander T. Wales, a lawyer of Birmingham, against John T. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, for fees he alleges are due him in connection with the part he took in settling the strike.

BOX RIVER MURDER CASE

By Associated Press.

Newport, Ky., May 27.—The appearance on the stand of George Rice, accused of the murder of Allan Davis, of Marietta, O., the testimony of Davis' brother and the tilts of opposing counsel, marked the hearing today in the "box river murder" case in the Campbell county circuit court. How the identity of the man found in a box floating down the Ohio river in October became established was told by Stephen D. Davis, a brother of the murdered man.

While the body, he stated, was almost beyond recognition when removed, he identified particles of the clothing and tattooed figures on the left arm. The figures were that of a woman, a bow and arrow and initials. Although he had not seen his brother for years he fully identified him by these marks.

Rice took the witness stand after the prosecution had rested its case and a motion by the attorneys for the defense for peremptory instruction had been overruled.

STRATHCONA WAS IMMENSELY RICH

DOYLE PREDICTS HANGING OF SUFFS

By Associated Press.

New York, May 27.—Conan Doyle, famous English novelist, who arrived here today, said that England has stood all it can from the suffragets and that he anticipates a "wholesale lynching bee."

"English government," he said,

"follows public opinion and thus far public opinion has not demanded the suppression of the suffragets, but is on the point of doing so, and when and English mob is aroused it is not a respecter of sex." This is the novelist's first visit to this country for twenty years.

GREAT POWERS ARE CONFERRED

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—General jurisdiction over railroad operations, insofar as safety is concerned, would be lodged with the Interstate Commerce Commission by a bill approved today by a House sub-committee and introduced by Representative Stephens of New Hampshire. Automatic train stops, block signals and steel cars, with certain exceptions, within ten years would be required. Broad discretionary powers would be conferred on the commission.

CONSIDER EXAMINING DOCUMENTS

By Associated Press.

New York, May 27.—For more than an hour today, Joseph W. Folk, consul for the Interstate Commerce Commission, conferred with Francis Lynde Stetson, counsel for J. P. Morgan and Company, concerning Mr. Morgan's offer to allow the commission to examine the firm's records relative to the New Haven railroad. A statement by Mr. Folk after the conference indicated that there had been some difference of opinion as to what papers and records would be gone into. "We insist," said Folk, "that the examiners should decide for themselves what books and papers of the firm relate to the New Haven. We also insist that these examiners should not be confined to books and papers handed them and said to be all that relate to the New Haven. In other words, the examination, to gather anything, must be thorough."

HILL SEES DANGER AHEAD

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—James J. Hill, discussing "the Future of Our Foreign Trade," in a paper read at the National Foreign Trade Convention here today, intimated that the United States might be in danger of running into such a widespread industrial distress as England now found herself "from attempting to hold markets against competitors while maintaining a wage scale that does not permit her to meet their prices and does not offer to capital an inducement into new fields of development."

He compared the per capita value of foreign trade of the United States which is $41, to that of Germany, which is $67 and that of the United Kingdom, which is $125. He said it was a short-sighted optimism that his concentrated attention for many years on the increase of our exports and manufactured products. Germany was constantly capturing English markets because of the inability of the English manufacturer to change his working conditions in conformity to general changes that have taken place. The United States was following England's example.

"The power of the English trade unions became practically arbitrary in fixing wages, hours and general working conditions. Germany found that, with a more advantageous wage scale, she could go into the world's markets and compete at prices which England could not meet. Hence the enormous growth of German exports. Hence a competition which the United States itself cannot meet in many lines, and which it could not meet at all did not immense and excessive natural resources, and, in certain lines of manufacture, the use of highly skilled labor and highly complicated machines which cheaper labor is not competent to handle, give us a temporary advantage.

He pictured the industrial distress in England and said it would seem that rational conduct might save the day, "but the burden placed by unwise restricted legislation and unnecessary taxation upon business in the United States are producing their natural effects here also. Just such mistakes as Great Britain has made and is making may confront the American workingman with a lost job, and empty cupboard and no younger and more promising land to which he may emigrate. Losing gradually the advantage that our position and resources have given us up to a recent date nothing much deeper wisdom and a keener sense of justice toward all factors that must unite to create national prosperity can keep us at the front in the race with other nations or even insure us against disappointment, disorder and economic distress at home."

LONE YANK WON DERBY

By Associated Press.

Epsom, England, May 27.—The derby, best known as the English classic horse race, was won today by an American horse, Herman B. Duraya's 'Durbar II. The winner created a great surprise, as he has been showing such poor form that he was regarded as a rank outsider, and odds of 25 to 1 were placed against him in the clubs last night. Today he had no trouble in distancing a huge field of 30 starters, the largest since 1863. The betting before the start of the race was 20 to 1 against him, 33 to 1 against Hapsburg and 100 to 1 against Peter the Hermit.

Durban II was the only American entry and won the derby by three lengths. H. Cholmondeley's Hapsburg, was second and King's Peter the Hermit was third.

OUTLINES PROGRESS MADE IN ARBITRATION

By Associated Press.

Mohonk Lake, N. Y., May 27.—John Bassett Moore, presiding at the opening session of the twentieth annual Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration here today, declared that existing arbitration treaties were a backward step. As far back as 1794 he found the United States and Great Britain admitting to arbitration in a sweeping manner certain points which would be subject to exception or restriction under the treaty with Great Britain today.

"As we are somewhat prone to boast of leading the van in the cause of peace, it may be worth our while to consider," he said, "whether we should not occupy a position more advanced than that which we now hold if we were to go back to the practice we adopted a hundred and twenty years ago."

Mr. Moore, whose resignation last March from the high office of counselor of the State Department stirred Washington with rumors of a clash with Secretary Bryan, made no attack upon the policies of his former chief. He spoke favorably of the pending "Bryan Peace Treaties."

He deplored that the cases of arbitration initiated during the past two years "have not in any respect been notable—related as they were for the post part to simple pecuniary questions," and that even these had been overshadowed by "armed conflicts of exceptional destructiveness," particularly in the Balkans where the end of hostilities was not yet assured.

"Every century," he said, hopefully, "furnishes occasions when the outlook of good causes is discouraging, if not almost hopeless. At such times it is necessary to rise above present conditions in order to take heart for the future."

There was no doubt but that since the Lake Mohonk Conference began twenty years ago the cause of international "co-operation," as he put it, had made striking advances, the most remarkable instances of which were the two Hague Conferences of 1899 and 1907.

"But the numerous treaties concluded since the Hague convention for the purpose of making arbitration obligatory in certain causes, do not, in my opinion," he said, "represent a general advance, and certainly do not represent an advance on the part of the United States."

"Prior to 1908 it was the practice of the United States to arbitrate pecuniary claims against foreign governments without concluding a formal treaty. Twenty-seven of our international arbitrations on such claims up to 1908 were held under executive agreements as against 19 under treaties. The former method is now forbidden."

He took up "The Bryan Peace Treaties," or agreements with the powers for pacific adjustment of all international disputes by means of an international commission of investigation, which should be allowed a year's time for its efforts, while the nations maintained the status quo as to military and naval preparations.

"In all," he said, "fifteen treaties based upon the 'peace plan' have been signed. It is understood that none of the agreements thus described has been submitted to the Senate, so that their fate cannot as yet be foretold; but it may be remarked that, with the exception of a very small number of all-inclusive treaties of arbitration, they represent an advance beyond previous arrangements in that they propose to submit to investigation all questions in dispute, of every nature whatsoever which diplomacy may fail to adjust. They do not bind the parties to arbitration, but expressly reserve to them independence of action after the report of the commission shall have been submitted."

"It has sometimes been argued

that making of treaties for the preservation of peace is an idle task, because, in spite of all agreements to the contrary, war will occur. This argument is obviously fallacious. Remedies for ills are not to be discarded merely because they do not always prove to be efficacious."

He referred to the "A. B. C. Mediation," now going on:

"Prior to The Hague Convention, the tender of good offices or consultation was usually regarded as an instructive act, savoring of unjustifiable interferences. By that convention it was declared that 'powers, strangers to the dispute, have the right to offer good offices or mediation, even during the course of hostilities,' and that exercise of this right could never be regarded by the parties to the conflict as 'an unfriendly act.' This stipulation paved the way for the tender of good offices or mediation made by the diplomatic representatives of Argentina, Brazil and Chile, at Washington, after hostilities were begun at Vera Cruz. The offer was accepted. No matter what may be its present result, it is a remarkable event in the history of international relations in the Western Hemisphere."

He believed that the long delayed Third Hague Conference would be held by 1916, and concluded:

"After twenty years of fruitful aid to the cause of peace and goodwill, the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration today faces the future with confidence and hope. * * * The maintenance of continuously peaceful conditions will depend upon the general improvement of political and social relations. And to the accomplishment of this all well-disposed men and women may work together in the inspiring belief that in the affairs of the world enlightened public opinion plays a constantly larger and more decisive part."

JAPANESE HOLD PAGANISTIC CEREMONIES AT CORONATION

By Associated Press.

Tokio, May 27.—Although it is nearly two years since the death of the Emperor Mutsuhito, it will be another two years before his successor, the Emperor Yoshihito, is fully enthroned, according to all the Japanese rites. The postponement of the coronation festivities, which had been arranged for the coming fall, is bemoaned by the whole Japanese people, but the death of the Dowager Empress necessitates a long period of national mourning and it is a sacrilegious thing to use at the coronation ceremony the seed of rice that has been ripened during a season of sorrow.

A part of the coronation ritual had been observed prior to the death of the Empress Dowager, however. The Imperial ancestors had been duly notified that the ceremonies were planned for the coming fall, and upon the death of the Dowager Empress, the ancestors were again visited at their various shrines and notified that the ceremonies would be deferred until 1916.

In Tokio, the Emperor himself made the announcement before the Imperial sanctuary in the palace. This is the most sacred of the shrines, where the spirit of the grand ancestor, Amaterasu-Omikami, "goddess of the sun," is enshrined. Here, also, are the three sacred symbols of the throne, the metal mirror, the sword, and the coma-shaped jewel, around each of which is woven the tradition that they were all handed down by the "goddess of the sun" the Imperial grand ancestor, to her grandson, Ninigi-no-mikoto, on the occasion of the latter's descent to

By Associated Press.

Chicago, May 27.—Efforts to have the Bible read daily in the public schools of the United States will be pressed strongly by the alliance of reformed churches in America holding the Presbyterian system, according to resolutions offered today for acceptance by the Presbyterian general assembly in session here.

"Religious training in our public schools, so planned as to avoid the violation in any way of our cherished principle of the separation of church and state, should be systematic and constant," declared the preamble. "This council calls upon the church authorities to investigate the subject fully with a view to devising some method of averting the sad results of present inefficiency in moral and religious training."

The resolution reads:

"The Word of God is the charter of the spiritual and civil rights of man, as abundantly illustrated in the history and institutions of this country. Persistent efforts are being made to exclude the Bible from use in the public schools. It is ordered that use be made of every proper means in maintaining the Word of God as an essential element in the education and training of the youth of the land."

GRAPES SELL AT $4.20 PER BUNCH

When the Panama Canal once opens for business many industries which have hitherto been more or less dormant in South America will be stimulated into activity. The United States furnishes a profitable market for many products of the southern continent, and with easy and rapid transportation facilities supplied this market will extend to perishable as the more stable products. One of the most profitable industries for which some of the South American countries are especially well adapted is that of fruit growing. In a recent article in the Monthly Bulletin of the Pan American Union Mr. W. F. Wright of the United States Department of Agriculture writes:

"South America probably has a range of climate and variety of conditions that will admit of the successful cultivation of every known fruit. Very nearly all of present importance have been introduced in the tropical or sub-tropical regions are those adapted to such a climate, namely, the sapodilla, mamme apple, mango, breadfruit, banana, tamarind, pomogranate, avocado, loquat, olive, fig, orange, and lemon, in addition to those native. In temperate regions, nearly all of the deciduous fruits grown in the United States have been introduced."

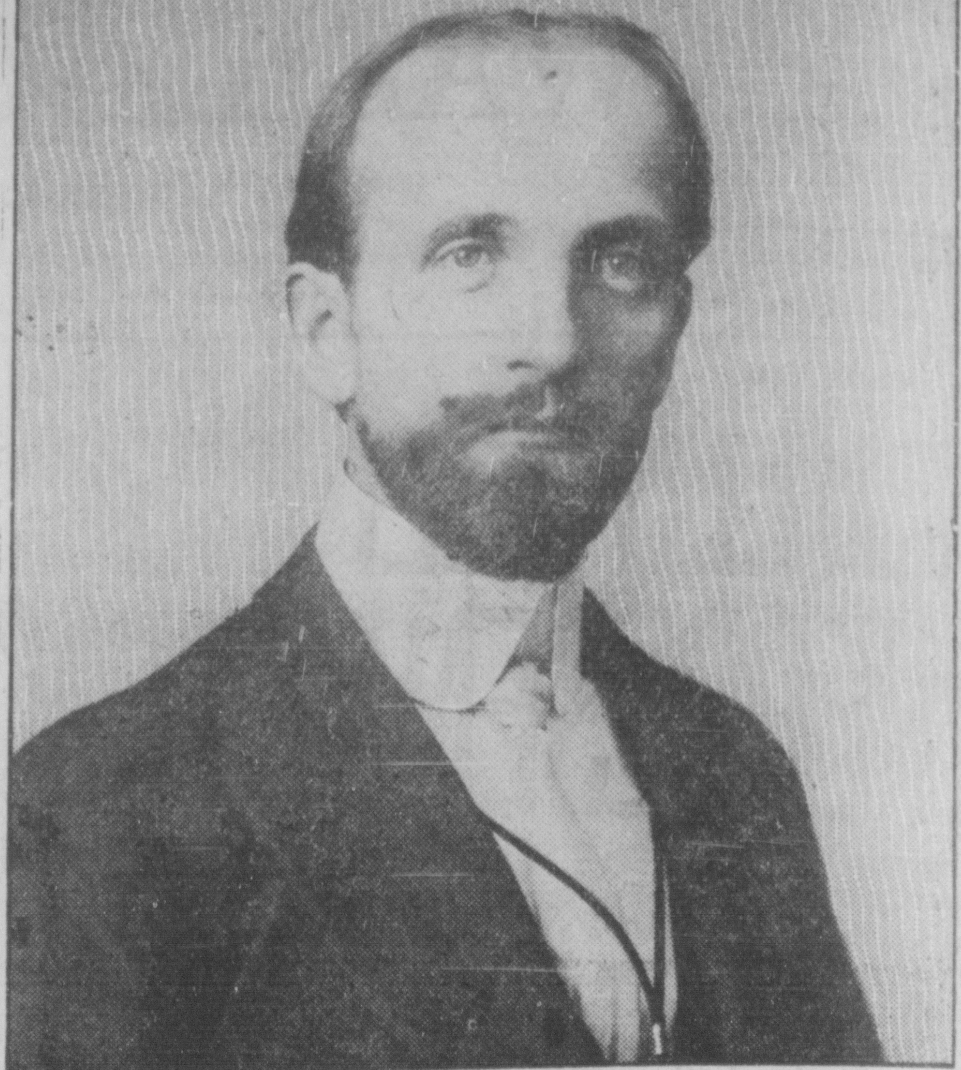

In Argentina the grape is the fruit which has attained the greatest commercial importance and the Mendoza country seems to lead all other sections. According to Mr. Wright undeveloped land in the vicinity of Mendoza is considered worth from $170 to $250 per acre. Planted in vines it is valued at $850 to $1,200 per acre. The net profit from vines in good bearing condition is said to be about $170 per acre. One grower, a native Argentine, stated that table grapes trained on an overhead trellis yielded him a net profit of $840 to $1,000 per acre, and that he had received as high as $4.20 for single selected clusters in Buenos Aires. The area in vines for the whole of Argentina is stated at 259,000 acres in 1910, and the production of the vines at 92,674,000 gallons, valued at more than 25 million dollars. In the same year California produced nearly 45,500,000 gallons, valued at a little more than 13 million dollars.

The Prince Asserts Himself

In the flare-up of Kaiser Wilhelm and other members of the German royal family, over the public announcement of Prince Oscar of Prussia, his fifth son, of his engagement to Countess Ina Marie, daughter of a Mecklinburg count, another proof that the doctrine of eugenic marriages is not in favor with royal families; has been furnished.

If there is one social strata more than another where eugenic marriages are not popular, it is in royal family circles, and if there is a social strata that would be more benefitted by the establishment of more natural rules relating to marriages, than the royal families, few people, especially in America, are aware of its existence.

For a long time, thinking people, many of them residing in a monarchy, have been contending that the circle within which members of the royal family could contract marriage, was so small as to seriously threaten the physical and mental vigor of the family.

The tolerance of enlightened people of this and other ridiculous forms of royalty is a sad commentary on the boasted advance of their civilization.

Most Americans sincerely hope that the young Prince Oscar will remain firm in his announced purpose and marry the little lady of his choice regardless of the Kaiser's threat to send him into exile.

If the people of the land do not demand an abolition of this nonsensical custom of marrying only in the small royal family then royalty should do so itself.

It is refreshing to see the young prince assert his independence.

All people, everywhere, who are in touch with the progress of the time, either openly or secretly, glory in his "spunk."

The fact that he is the first of the long line of Hohenzollerns to marry out of the little family circle of royalty should be an incentive to him to follow the dictate of his heart and should weight more heavily with him than should the knowledge that if he refuses to follow his heart promptings he will be only one of many who have been shackled to a ridiculous custom.

Marriage Shouldn't Bar Women From Jobs

By Mrs. SUSAN W. FITZGERALD, President Massachusetts Political Equality Union

WOMEN are hideously hampered in professional work by having to bother about the care of their clothes and all sorts of details that a man has never had to think of. If a man had to get his own breakfast and dinner and wash out handkerchiefs and things at night he wouldn't like it much. A professional woman ought to be saved all that and have her nervous strength conserved for her work. It would be quite nice for her to have a HUSBAND TO HAVE HOT CHOCOLATE READY FOR HER when she came home, to take her wraps and perform various little services for her. It would save her a lot—just as a wife saves her husband—and be a good, comfy job for him. He would be BETTER THAN A MERE MAID because more devoted.

AS TO THE MARRIAGE QUESTION, IT IS NO BUSINESS OF THE LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL—WHICH HAS JUST ANNOUNCED THAT IF ANY OR ALL OF THE THREE WOMEN PHYSICIANS ON THE BOARD OF HEALTH MARRY SUCH AN ACT WILL BE CONSIDERED EQUIVALENT TO A RESIGNATION—OR OF ANY ONE ELSE WHETHER A WOMAN IS MARRIED OR SINGLE. THAT IS JUST AS MUCH A PERSONAL MATTER AS THE CHURCH A WOMAN BELONGS TO, THE DAIRY SHE PATRONIZES OR THE FACT THAT SHE HAS A GRANDMOTHER.

Business Hesitation Can't Be Attributed to Mexico

By Secretary of Commerce WILLIAM C. REDFIELD

THE situation in Mexico will not affect our commerce. Of course it will interrupt our trade relations with Mexico, but it will not disturb our commerce with other nations of the world. There is today a noticeable hesitation throughout the business world. There is a downward trend of costs. That hesitation on the part of business cannot be attributed to conditions in Mexico, for that is a local condition.

THE BUSINESS DEPRESSION IS UNIVERSAL. PERHAPS IT IS PARTLY DUE TO THE FACT THAT THE AVERAGE COST OF COMMODITIES IS DECLINING. THE WHOLESALE AND THE MANUFACTURERS ARE HOLDING BACK TO AWAIT A BETTER MARKET. PURCHASERS ARE INCLINED TO WAIT FOR LOWER PRICES. SELLERS ARE NOT ANXIOUS TO BOOM THEIR PRODUCTS ON A SLOW MARKET.

A PRETTY GOOD WORLD.

This world's a pretty good sort of world,
Taking it altogether.
In spite of the grief and sorrow we meet,
In spite of the gloomy weather.
There are friends to love and hopes to cheer,
And plenty of compensation
For every ache for those who make
The best of the situation.

There are quiet nooks for lovers of books,
With Nature in happy union;
There are cool retreats from the noon-tide heats
Where souls may have sweet communion;

And if there is a spot where the sun shines not
There's always a lamp to light it,
And if there's a wrong we know ere long
That Heaven above will right it.

So it's not for us to make a fuss
Because of life's sad mischances,
Nor to wear ourselves out to bring about
A change in our circumstances.
For this world's a pretty good sort of world,
And He to whom we are debtor
Appoints our place, and supplies the grace

Tells Story of South American Trip to Geographers.

DESCRIBES RIVER OF DOUBT

Submits to Society His Evidence of the Discovery of Stream One Thousand Miles Long—Colonel Also Calls On President Wilson and Holds Conference With Progressives—Busy Day at Capital.

Washington, May 27.—Former President Roosevelt spent a strenuous day in the national capital. Into nine hours he crowded a speech on his South American expedition, a call on President Wilson, a political conference of first importance with the Progressives in congress, a visit to the Smithsonian Institution to see the trophies of his African hunt of four years ago, a meeting with a few members of the diplomatic corps and a dinner with his old friends here. Besides, there were a dozen impromptu receptions.

Colonel Roosevelt went to the White House dressed in a gray suit and a white felt hat. He was the guest of the president for half an hour, telling stories and drinking lemonade.

Before the National Geographic society the colonel told the story of his South American explorations and submitted his evidence of the discovery of a 1,000-mile river. The big auditorium was crowded with members and guests of the society, leaders of official life and of society. The speaker made his talk from a big temporary stage, fitted with maps of South America, a big stereopticon screen and a blackboard, upon which was drawn a scale chart of a portion of the Amazon river, with its tributaries, Madeira and Tapajoz. The chart showed the new watercourse described by Colonel Roosevelt in dotted lines.

Roosevelt said he had built upon the work done by South American explorers, particularly during the last eight years. He characterized his South American expedition as a "zoogeographic reconnaissance," and said that exhaustive investigating work would not be done properly by the first expedition to penetrate the wilderness.

The colonel said the work of early Spanish explorers, who discovered the Amazon river, made "the explorations of our day seem like child's play." He added that these explorers also discovered the mouths of several tributaries of the Amazon. "Some of these rivers were not known beyond their mouths for centuries," said the colonel, "even what they knew of the mouth of the river I am going to speak about was all wrong."

The colonel said he had not gone to South America to discover rivers, but on a purely zoological mission, but that Dr. Muller, Brazilian minister of foreign affairs, had inspired him to seek out the now famous "River of Doubt." "Mr. Muller told me," Mr. Roosevelt declared, "that as a result of the work of the Brazilian telegraphic commission in western Brazil, all the maps in existence of that part of the country would have to be changed."

Colonel Roosevelt criticized the modern maps, which he said were "all wrong."

"It is almost impossible for me to show you what I did on these maps," he said, "because they are so preposterously wrong."

PROHIBITION GIVEN BOOST

Radical Resolutions Adopted By General Assembly.

Chicago, May 27.—Presbyterians throughout the United States who belong to clubs or other organizations which are licensed to sell intoxicating liquors are strongly urged to resign from such associations in radical resolutions approved by the 126th general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America.

The resolutions, which were presented by the Rev. W. P. Calhoun of Knoxville, Tenn., chairman of the committee on temperance, also urged that all officers and members of local churches be forbidden to sign liquor applications or to rent property in which intoxicants are sold. The cigar habit was scathingly denounced and a stand taken in favor of nation-wide prohibition. It was decided to hold the next annual assembly in Rochester, N. Y.

CORN IS SOARING WHEAT FOLLOWING

The price of corn is now higher, with probably one exception, than it has been for more than 20 years, it is claimed, owing to the shortage of crop last season. At the present time the price ranges from 70 to 75 cents per bushel, with good prospects of still further increase before the new crop comes on late in the fall.

The price of wheat is starting upward, and is now about 92 cents per bushel, with prospects of going higher, owing to the damage that is being inflicted throughout the wheat belt by the Hessian fly, other pests, and the dry weather.

Among the farmers who are heavy raisers of swine there is a great demand for corn, and in some instances 75c has been paid and the farmer who buys the corn does the hauling.

THE TELEPHONE MERGER.

Plans for a merger of the rival telephone companies in Ohio indicate that the curse of two telephone systems in the same city will soon be lifted from the people. There is no excuse for duplication of service in any city and the average telephone subscriber will feel relieved when one system is eliminated.

The good of the public requires that there should be a monopoly of the telephone. The chief value of the telephone is found in the quickness with which the subscriber can communicate with others. The more subscribers which any system has, the greater its value to the individual will be and the quickness with which he can be connected with any subscriber forms an important factor in determining its value to him.

Two telephone systems in any city form an added expense to the up-to-date merchant, business man or progressive resident who wishes to keep abreast of his competitors and friends. There are many persons who subscribe for one telephone who do not install the other in order to prevent a competitor from gaining their patronage. It is necessary to install and pay for both telephones. Coupled with the increased expense the added inconvenience of answering two telephones and of examining two books when trying to communicate with a patron serves to irritate the busy man.

Two telephone systems mean a duplication of service an added expense for upkeep, maintenance and extensions. The public must pay the bill if the companies operate without a loss and experience proves that the average telephone company is not in business for fun. Since the creation of the public utilities commission, there is no advantage to the public from competition between the rival companies, as the commissioners have it within their power to fix rates and prevent the companies from charging an exorbitant price for service.

The merger of the telephone companies in Ohio is desired by every one who has suffered the annoyance of having two telephones in his place of business. The public has everything to gain and the elimination of one system will be a source of gratification to all telephone users. —Springfield Sun.

INTEREST INCREASES IN PAVING PROBLEMS

PAVING POWERS OF COUNCIL ARE BROAD

Interpretation of Statute Covering Proceedings Is That No Petition For Improvement Is Necessary When Council Decides That Improvement Should be Made—The Various Paving Projects Now Before Public.

With the opening of the summer season interest begins to center about the question of street paving and improving. The question is general and freely discussed and the outcome of the street situation this summer is awaited with deep interest.

The majority of the proposed street improvements, including the more important, remain prospective, and to date but one street paving job can be counted on definitely. This is the section of Main street, between Market and Temple streets in the Cherry hotel block. The contract for the brickwork of this section of street is to be let Saturday and it is the present intention of property owners along Temple street, between Main and Hinde, to pave that section when the other work has been completed.

The paving of the Main street block is greeted with general satisfaction as this portion of the street, plentifully dotted with hollows and ruts, has been a source of annoyance for years.

The paving projects awaited with most interest at the present time are those of Washington avenue, North street, Circle avenue and Oakland avenue.

The fate of the Washington avenue paving now lies with the Court of Appeals, having been carried up from the Common Pleas court by the plaintiffs recently when that court favored the city in a decision providing for the continuance of the work.

As yet, the N. North street project is in its infancy. No decisive legislation has been passed by Council to date but the committee appointed from that body to investigate is scheduled to report at Monday night's meeting and it is thought the matter will be carried on rapidly.

Another committee is expected to make a report Monday on the Circle avenue investigation. All the legislation for this improvement was completed by the last council and it remains now but for Council to say the word.

On the Oakland avenue deal the greatest difficulty is to be encountered. Like the Circle avenue project, virtually all necessary steps were taken by the last council, but with the interpretation of the new frontage law, providing that property owners are to be assessed for the entire side footage of their lots, instead of the frontage alone, as formerly, most of the property holders along this street have arraigned themselves against the improvement. Oakland avenue is located in the Elmwood addition and is about three blocks in length terminating at one end in Clinton avenue and at the other, in Leesburg avenue. This matter is calculated to come in for a great deal of attention, and contention, at the next meeting of Council.

As it has been calculated, Washington avenue, N. North street and the section of street on Main from Market to Temple will be constructed of brick; the Circle avenue improvement will be of brick center and concrete siding; the block of improvement to be made by the Temple street residents will be of concrete and the Oakland paving of macadam.

The powers of Council, in taking up the question of paving, has been the subject of no little discussion, but Solicitor Pope Gregg, when asked as to his interpretation of the statute under which Council can act in passing paving legislation, stated that Council is endowed with broad powers and that under the statute Council could, if the improvement was by Council deemed necessary, pass legislation for the paving of almost any street in the city, and that a petition was not essential for the improvement. In other words the interpretation means that the powers of Council in regard to street paving, are practically unlimited, and that whether a petition for the improvement is filed, or whether Council sees fit to pass a resolution declaring it necessary to improve a street, the final result may be the same.

In the Washington avenue case, Judge Curtin, in his decision, held that when two-thirds of the members of Council concurred in declaring the improvement necessary, their action was legal.

BRAKEMAN FALLS FROM CAR ROOF

P. O. Brown, D. T. & I. brakeman, well known here, met with a painful though not serious accident Tuesday afternoon and as a result will be laid off several days.

Brown was a member of the crew of the northbound local No. 46, which was switching some cars along the C. A. & C. storage track. He was riding the top of a car that had been "cut loose" and was setting the brake when he lost his balance and fell to the road bed below, dislocating his right wrist and sustaining several severe abrasions of the face. Brown, with his characteristic stoicism, made his way unaided to the office of Dr. D. H. Rowe where his injuries were attended. He returned to his home in Springfield Tuesday night.

JEFFERSONVILLE GRADUATING CLASS PLAY SCORES BIG HIT

Dramatic Presentation of the Story of "Endymion" by Graduates Draws Capacity Audience at Jefferson Hall Last Night—Orchestral Music Pleasing.

Crowded to the utmost of its capacity by one of the largest crowds it has ever accommodated was Jefferson hall, Jeffersonville, Tuesday night, at the commencement exercises of the 1914 high school graduating class. Many were unable to gain admittance.

Following the presentation of diplomas and in place of regular oratorical commencement exercises, the class offered a highly agreeable novelty in the dramatic presentation of "Endymion", the quaint and ever beautiful old legend of Greek mythology.

To say that the performance was good is to put it too lightly. Each of the twenty graduates, the unusually large number in this year's class, was a star in his or her own particular role.

REMARKABLE PERIOD COVERED BY LIFE

All that was mortal of the late Martha Popejoy was laid to rest in Washington cemetery Tuesday afternoon, following short, simple funeral services at her late home on the old Frankfort road, two miles east of Bloomingburg. The deceased attained the remarkable age of a little over 97 years, and she spent her entire life on the farm on which she was born. For many years the deceased kept house with her brother, Lewis Popejoy, who is now in his 83rd year.

A sister, Mrs. Susan Counts, of near Danville, Madison county, is in her 100th year, but is in very feeble health.

The deceased was probably the oldest person in the county and her passing removes from our midst a pioneer who lived to see this section of Ohio transformed from woodland and swamp to a land of prosperity and healthfulness, interspersed with fine homes, villages and cities, and traversed with a grand system of highways and railways. The most remarkable changes and improvements in the history of the world came during her life time, marking the advent of more accomplishment for the benefit, convenience and pleasure of mankind than in all the preceding ages. A few of the more noteworthy things that Martha Popejoy lived to see come to man are the ordinary lamps, gas and electricity, instead of candles, modern houses, steel buildings and skyscrapers instead of log huts; buggies, automobiles, traction cars, aeroplanes, instead of couriers; high-class clothing, Eumenides' betrothed; Helen Fults, as Artemis, Goddess of the Chase and Moon; Omar Wilson, as Hermes, Messenger of the Gods; Candace Haigler, as Morpheus, God of Sleep; Florence Ervin, as Pan, God of the Dryads, and Russell Bowers and Addie Fults as King Aeolus and Queen Hermlia, parents of Endymion.

The story is that of a Goddess, Artemis, who loves a mortal Endymion, son of a king, whom she would make immortal and to accomplish her purpose inveigles him into a wood and there casts a spell of sleep over him. Endymion, at the price of his wakefulness, refuses to follow Artemis in preference to his sweetheart, Phrynia. All else failing, Eumenides, Endymion's friend offers his dearest possession, Kallisthene's love, to restore his friend to wakefulness, but the Goddess repents her action and removing her spell blesses the lovers.

The play scored the biggest hit and received the warmest applause that has ever been accorded an amateur performance in Jeffersonville, and its great success was responsible in a large measure to the assistance of the Jeffersonville orchestra which supplied the musical features and accompaniments.

President of the Board of Education, J. B. Davis, presented the diplomas to the graduates.

ing instead of linsey, threshing machines instead of flails; the self-binder instead of the sickle; the corn planter, the telephone, the daily mail, the newspaper, the drainage system, the wireless telegraph, the heating stove and furnace, the cotton gin, etc. A thousand other giant strides that have been made by civilization and genius during the lifetime of this one person, whose lips are now sealed forever, could be mentioned, causing the thoughtful to bow the head in reverence and awe before the throne of the All Wise power that directs us.

Dr. A. J. Gaskins, of Sabina, is recovering from painful injuries sustained a few days ago, when a huge transom fell upon him, and the broken glass inflicted wounds which might easily have caused death.

Dr. Gaskins was standing in front of his furniture store when the big transom, 4 by 6 feet, fell upon him. When the transom struck his head the glass was shattered and the frame fell about him. Besides gashes cut across the head and face, an artery was severed in one foot.

He hurried to a brother physician's office where the flow of blood was stopped, but not before he had become very weak from loss of blood.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—The importance of foreign trade to the railroads was discussed at the National Foreign Trade Convention here today by Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway, who said that there was no doubt of the eagerness of transportation lines, both steamship and railway, to afford ample service in the building up of a foreign trade, but the present difficulty was the irregularity with which the manufacturers of the United States took up the invasion of foreign markets.

"Our home market is so large," he said, "that, as to the producers of many manufactured articles, it is difficult to interest them in export business, except as an outlet for surplus production during times of depression in the United States. Service to foreign markets cannot be provided merely to meet such contingencies nor can trade relations be established upon such an uncertain footing. The wiser course would seem to be for our manufacturers to seek the development of permanent and regular export trade as supplementary to their business in the United States. Then, if at any time their home demand should decline, they will be better protected in the maintenance of organization and output and will be better prepared to take advantage of trade conditions in other countries, which are frequently the reverse of our own."

He pointed out that the railroads were making efforts to bring about an increase in foreign commerce, and as an instance he cited the action of the Southern Railway in appointing a "South American agent" a man who was for a long time in the consular service in South America and whose sole business was to be the building up of export traffic to Central and South American countries.

The Process of Dry Milk

While the milk is new (still warm) it is turned into a large tank from which it comes in a fine spray, falling on swiftly revolving red-hot copper cylinders; just before it touches the cylinders all the moisture leaves it and it falls in the form of tiny white flakes on white silk trays; it is dried again in 150 degrees of heat for two hours then packed in air-tight barrels. All of this is done in one of the big Milk-Chocolate factories, and everyone knows their cows are tested and rated AA, A. We add the water ourselves and use it in our famous

LEESBURG PIKE CONTRACT IS TO BE LET JUNE 16

June 16 is the date set by the state highway department for the letting of the contract for the construction of a section a little over a mile in length, of what is known as the Hillsboro-Washington inter-county road, better known as the Leesburg pike.

The Leesburg pike improvement is to consist of 1.06 miles, 14 feet wide, to be constructed of paving brick, and the estimated cost is $17,069.67.

The contract calls for completion of the improvement by October 1, 1914.

The improvement will begin at the corporation line near the fair grounds and will extend in a southerly direction.

It is probable that on July 1 a similar amount will be let on the Springfield-Washington road (Jeffersonville pike) and also on the Washington-London road (Bloomington and Midway pike), the latter being an extension of the work now in progress near Bloomington.

The total amount to be expended on all three roads in 1914 by the Highway department, including the sum to be furnished by the county, will be about $56,000.

MADISON COUNTY COMMISSIONERS BUSY

The Madison county commissioners on Monday sold $30,000 worth of bonds to the Ohio National bank, of Columbus, at a premium of $574. The proceeds of the sale are for the improvement of the London and Marysville and the Madison and Fayette pikes under the inter-county highway law. Under this law the state, county, township and land owners join in paying for the improvement.—London Democrat.

DRY WEATHER STOPS WORK IN THE FIELD

The dry weather has, in many instances, stopped the work of planting corn, the farmers awaiting rain so that their ground may be placed in condition for the reception of the crop.

As a result of the delay there will be considerable June planted corn in Fayette county this season.

Believers in "signs" are anticipating a big corn crop this season, owing to the abundance of blossoms on the locust trees. Plenty of locust blossoms is regarded as indicative of a plentiful corn crop.

Former Marshal Kennon, of Cedarville, still faces a charge similar to that which sent Shull and the Polly woman to the penitentiary.

INTEREST INCREASES IN PAVING PROBLEMS

PAVING POWERS OF COUNCIL ARE BROAD

Interpretation of Statute Covering Proceedings Is That No Petition For Improvement Is Necessary When Council Decides That Improvement Should be Made—The Various Paving Projects Now Before Public.

With the opening of the summer season interest begins to center about the question of street paving and improving. The question is general and freely discussed and the outcome of the street situation this summer is awaited with deep interest.

The majority of the proposed street improvements, including the more important, remain prospective, and to date but one street paving job can be counted on definitely. This is the section of Main street, between Market and Temple streets in the Cherry hotel block. The contract for the brickwork of this section of street is to be let Saturday and it is the present intention of property owners along Temple street, between Main and Hinde, to pave that section when the other work has been completed.

The paving of the Main street block is greeted with general satisfaction as this portion of the street, plentifully dotted with hollows and ruts, has been a source of annoyance for years.

The paving projects awaited with most interest at the present time are those of Washington avenue, North street, Circle avenue and Oakland avenue.

The fate of the Washington avenue paving now lies with the Court of Appeals, having been carried up from the Common Pleas court by the plaintiffs recently when that court favored the city in a decision providing for the continuance of the work.

As yet, the N. North street project is in its infancy. No decisive legislation has been passed by Council to date but the committee appointed from that body to investigate is scheduled to report at Monday night's meeting and it is thought the matter will be carried on rapidly.

Another committee is expected to make a report Monday on the Circle avenue investigation. All the legislation for this improvement was completed by the last council and it remains now but for Council to say the word.

On the Oakland avenue deal the greatest difficulty is to be encountered. Like the Circle avenue project, virtually all necessary steps were taken by the last council, but with the interpretation of the new frontage law, providing that property owners are to be assessed for the entire side footage of their lots, instead of the frontage alone, as formerly, most of the property holders along this street have arraigned themselves against the improvement. Oakland avenue is located in the Elmwood addition and is about three blocks in length terminating at one end in Clinton avenue and at the other, in Leesburg avenue. This matter is calculated to come in for a great deal of attention, and contention, at the next meeting of Council.

As it has been calculated, Washington avenue, N. North street and the section of street on Main from Market to Temple will be constructed of brick; the Circle avenue improvement will be of brick center and concrete siding; the block of improvement to be made by the Temple street residents will be of concrete and the Oakland paving of macadam.

The powers of Council, in taking up the question of paving, has been the subject of no little discussion, but Solicitor Pope Gregg, when asked as to his interpretation of the statute under which Council can act in passing paving legislation, stated that Council is endowed with broad powers and that under the statute Council could, if the improvement was by Council deemed necessary, pass legislation for the paving of almost any street in the city, and that a petition was not essential for the improvement. In other words the interpretation means that the powers of Council in regard to street paving, are practically unlimited, and that whether a petition for the improvement is filed, or whether Council sees fit to pass a resolution declaring it necessary to improve a street, the final result may be the same.

In the Washington avenue case, Judge Curtin, in his decision, held that when two-thirds of the members of Council concurred in declaring the improvement necessary, their action was legal.

BRAKEMAN FALLS FROM CAR ROOF

P. O. Brown, D. T. & I. brakeman, well known here, met with a painful though not serious accident Tuesday afternoon and as a result will be laid off several days.

Brown was a member of the crew of the northbound local No. 46, which was switching some cars along the C. A. & C. storage track. He was riding the top of a car that had been "cut loose" and was setting the brake when he lost his balance and fell to the road bed below, dislocating his right wrist and sustaining several severe abrasions of the face. Brown, with his characteristic stoicism, made his way unaided to the office of Dr. D. H. Rowe where his injuries were attended. He returned to his home in Springfield Tuesday night.

JEFFERSONVILLE GRADUATING CLASS PLAY SCORES BIG HIT

Dramatic Presentation of the Story of "Endymion" by Graduates Draws Capacity Audience at Jefferson Hall Last Night—Orchestral Music Pleasing.

Crowded to the utmost of its capacity by one of the largest crowds it has ever accommodated was Jefferson hall, Jeffersonville, Tuesday night, at the commencement exercises of the 1914 high school graduating class. Many were unable to gain admittance.

Following the presentation of diplomas and in place of regular oratorical commencement exercises, the class offered a highly agreeable novelty in the dramatic presentation of "Endymion", the quaint and ever beautiful old legend of Greek mythology.

To say that the performance was good is to put it too lightly. Each of the twenty graduates, the unusually large number in this year's class, was a star in his or her own particular role.

Deserving of particular mention are Charles Seibert, who masterfully played the title role; Ruth Ladd, as Phrynia, Endymion's sweetheart; Harold Zimmerman, as Eumenides, his friend; Oma Wood, as Kallisto, Eumenides' betrothed; Helen Fultz, as Artemis, Goddess of the Chase and Moon; Omar Wilson, as Hermes, Messenger of the Gods; Candace Haigler, as Morpheus, God of Sleep; Florence Ervin, as Pan, God of the Dryads, and Russell Bowers and Addie Fultz as King Aeolus and Queen Herma, parents of Endymion.

The story is that of a Goddess, Artemis, who loves a mortal Endymion, son of a king, whom she would make immortal, and to accomplish her purpose inveigles him into a wood and there casts a spell of sleep over him. Endymion, at the price of his wakefulness, refuses to follow Artemis in preference to his sweetheart, Phrynia. All else failing, Eumenides, Endymion's friend offers his dearest possession, Kallisto's love, to restore his friend to wakefulness, but the Goddess repents her action and removing her spell blesses the lovers.

The play scored the biggest hit and received the warmest applause that has ever been accorded an amateur performance in Jeffersonville, and its great success was responsible in a large measure to the assistance of the Jeffersonville orchestra which supplied the musical features and accompaniments.

President of the Board of Education, J. B. Davis, presented the diplomas to the graduates.

ing instead of linsey, threshing machines instead of flails; the self-binder instead of the sickle; the corn planter, the telephone, the daily mail, the newspaper, the drainage system, the wireless telegraph, the heating stove and furnace, the cotton gin, etc. A thousand other giant strides that have been made by civilization and genius during the lifetime of this one person, whose lips are now sealed forever, could be mentioned, causing the thoughtful to bow the head in reverence and awe before the throne of the All Wise power that directs us.

Dr. A. J. Gaskins, of Sabina, is recovering from painful injuries sustained a few days ago, when a huge transom fell upon him, and the broken glass inflicted wounds which might easily have caused death.

Dr. Gaskins was standing in front of his furniture store when the big transom, 4 by 6 feet, fell upon him. When the transom struck his head the glass was shattered and the frame fell about him. Besides gashes cut across the head and face, an artery was severed in one foot.

He hurried to a brother physician's office where the flow of blood was stopped, but not before he had become very weak from loss of blood.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—The importance of foreign trade to the railroads was discussed at the National Foreign Trade Convention here today by Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway, who said that there was no doubt of the eagerness of transportation lines, both steamship and railway, to afford ample service in the building up of a foreign trade, but the present difficulty was the irregularity with which the manufacturers of the United States took up the invasion of foreign markets.

"Our home market is so large," he said, "that, as to the producers of many manufactured articles, it is difficult to interest them in export business, except as an outlet for surplus production during times of depression in the United States. Service to foreign markets cannot be provided merely to meet such contingencies nor can trade relations be established upon such an uncertain footing. The wiser course would seem to be for our manufacturers to seek the development of permanent and regular export trade as supplementary to their business in the United States. Then, if at any time their home demand should decline, they will be better protected in the maintenance of organization and output and will be better prepared to take advantage of trade conditions in other countries, which are frequently the reverse of our own."

He pointed out that the railroads were making efforts to bring about an increase in foreign commerce, and as an instance he cited the action of the Southern Railway in appointing a "South American agent" a man who was for a long time in the consular service in South America and whose sole business was to be the building up of export traffic to Central and South American countries.

The Process of Dry Milk

While the milk is new (still warm) it is turned into a large tank from which it comes in a fine spray, falling on swiftly revolving red-hot copper cylinders; just before it touches the cylinders all the moisture leaves it and it falls in the form of tiny white flakes on white silk trays; it is dried again in 150 degrees of heat for two hours then packed in air-tight barrels. All of this is done in one of the big Milk-Chocolate factories, and everyone knows their cows are tested and rated AA, A, B. We add the water ourselves and use it in our famous

HONOR PUPILS CLASS OF 1914

Miss Lillian Davis has won the highest honors of the class of 1914 for the entire four years' course of the Washington High school; Charles Clarke has taken second honors, and Roy Vivens third.

That the class is showing excellent scholarship is proved by the fact that 33 out of the entire class of 47 are exempt from the final examination.

UNION PRAYER MEETING

The churches have been fortunate in securing Rev. J. Lewis Smith, D. D., of Pasadena, Cal., who is at present spending a couple of weeks in Columbus. He will give his famous illustrated lecture on "Yellowstone Park". Rev. Smith has gone through the territory he talks about and having studied it carefully, can talk as only those having visited this great reserve can talk.

All the churches will unite Thursday night at the Presbyterian church and the public is invited to share the treat, in seeing Yellowstone park and hearing the strongest and probably the most brilliant speaker in the Baptist church of the west. The hour is 7:30.

NO CHANGE IN MAIL SERVICE

Persons depending upon the D. T. & I. for their mail will be glad to learn that the new service effective June 1st will not eliminate any of the mails.

Mail cars will be attached to the steam trains and to two of the motor driven cars, so that the same number of mails will be carried over the road. This information has been forwarded to Postmaster Williams, of Jeffersonville, by the postoffice authorities.

LARGE AUDIENCE WITNESSES WORK

A large audience, including many members of adjoining Odd Fellow lodges, witnessed the splendid work of Imperial Degree staff, Tuesday night, when the first degree was conferred upon Rev. W. B. Gage, of the Presbyterian church.

Among the visitors was Dr. W. L. Townsend, of Columbus, who is captain of the Majestic Degree Staff of Columbus—a staff which is rapidly coming to the front. The Noble Grand of Columbus lodge was also present, and both men were greatly pleased with the manner in which the work was conferred.

On Broadway, Open Air Rink opens Thursday night, June 28.

LEESBURG PIKE CONTRACT IS TO BE LET JUNE 16

June 16 is the date set by the state highway department for the letting of the contract for the construction of a section a little over a mile in length, of what is known as the Hillsboro-Washington inter-county road, better known as the Leesburg pike.

The Leesburg pike improvement is to consist of 1.06 miles, 14 feet wide, to be constructed of paving brick, and the estimated cost is $17,069.67.

The contract calls for completion of the improvement by October 1, 1914.

The improvement will begin at the corporation line near the fair grounds and will extend in a southerly direction.

It is probable that on July 1 a similar amount will be let on the Springfield-Washington road (Jeffersonville pike) and also on the Washington-London road (Bloomingburg and Midway pike), the latter being an extension of the work now in progress near Bloomingburg.

The total amount to be expended on all three roads in 1914 by the Highway department, including the sum to be furnished by the county, will be about $56,000.

MADISON COUNTY COMMISSIONERS BUSY

The Madison county commissioners on Monday sold $30,000 worth of bonds to the Ohio National bank, of Columbus, at a premium of $574. The proceeds of the sale are for the improvement of the London and Marysville and the Madison and Fayette pikes under the inter-county highway law. Under this law the state, county, township and land owners join in paying for the improvement.—London Democrat.

DEATHS STATION.

William Staton, colored, aged 56 years, died at his home on "Water street" at five o'clock Wednesday morning. Funeral services at the Second Baptist church, Thursday afternoon at two o'clock, and burial will be made in the Washington cemetery.

DRY WEATHER STOPS WORK IN THE FIELD

The dry weather has, in many instances, stopped the work of planting corn, the farmers awaiting rain so that their ground may be placed in condition for the reception of the crop.

As a result of the delay there will be considerable June planted corn in Fayette county this season.

Believers in "signs" are anticipating a big corn crop this season, owing to the abundance of blossoms on the locust trees. Plenty of locust blossoms is regarded as indicative of a plentiful corn crop.

ANOTHER SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY

Julia James Polly, colored, of Cedarville, charged with contributing to the delinquency of 14-year-old Carrie Shull, whose father is now in the penitentiary, where he was sentenced for admitting a similar charge as that preferred against the woman, was this week found guilty and sentenced to the penitentiary for an indefinite period.

Former Marshal Kennon, of Cedarville, still faces a charge similar to that which sent Shull and the Polly woman to the penitentiary.

LOCAL MAN EMPLOYED BY J. L. ZIMMERMAN

Zimmerman, Springfield millionaire, to act as his personal representative in Zimmerman's campaign for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, and has taken up the campaign work, which will carry him to every point of importance in the State of Ohio. His work this week will be confined to south-central Ohio.

on Important Suggestions.

AMERICAN DELEGATES TALK

First Day of Actual Discussion of
Issues Involved in Mexican Tangle
Augurs Well For Successful Out-
come of the Proceedings at Niagara Falls—Speedy Settlement Believed Imminent.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 27.—After
the first day of actual discussion of the issues involved in the Mexican tangle, the outlook for a successful
outcome of the mediation conferences
now being held here is better than at any period since the meetings began.

Tangible and carefully studied suggestions for the early pacification of Mexico and the installation of a permanent government to bring about the needed peace for the southern republic were definitely agreed upon
when they were submitted to the American delegates, Justice Lamar
and Frederick W. Lehman, by ambassador Da Gama of Brazil and Ministers Naon and Suarez Mulca of Argentine and Chile. These suggestions
had previously been sanctioned by
the Mexican delegates, Senor Esra-
basa, Rodriguez and Elguero.

The questions which still remain
unsolved include several of the most
indications afford good reason to believe that these will be settled
promptly and that the proceedings
will be brought to a head within
short notice.

So eager are both mediators and
delegates to arrive at an early solution that no delay will be allowed to hold up the proceedings. All have agreed to hold three and even four sessions a day if needed.

The most important session of the conference was held when the three South American envoys conferred for more than an hour with Justice Lamar and Mr. Lehman. After the conference Justice Lamar made the following statement: "We have agreed upon a certain number of suggestions
for the solution of the present difficulty, but several other important suggestions still remain to be dis-
able."

No further comment on the nature of the suggestions which had been agreed upon was obtained from the delegates, but careful inquiry among those who know revealed the fact that they include some of the most vital of the issues involved. A carefully prepared plan drawn up by the three mediators after hearing the
claims and demands of both the United States and the Mexican delegates
has been agreed upon in principle.

been made for the installation of a temporary government to step in at once in General Huerta's place and
to remain in power until constitutional elections have been held and a

president and congress lawfully elect-
ed. It is understood that President Wilson is prepared to pledge the support of the United States in the reorganization of internal affairs in Mexico, provided full guarantee is given that the reforms promised will
be fulfilled and the program for the restoration of peace completely carried out.

Prompt recognition of this new government by the United States
would be forthcoming, it is said, and
should the elections result in the election of General Huerta, he too
would be immediately recognized.

FEDERALS HOLDING TO THEIR GROUND

Mexico City, May 27.—Advises received at the war office are that the situation in San Luis Potosi is un-
General Oeda are holding Mazatlan.
Business men are in better spirits
than they have been for some time,
owing to the action of the government in relieving from the national

Democrats Yield to the Demands of Organized Labor.

OPPOSITION IS FADING AWAY

Proposed Amendment Will Exempt
Labor, Fraternal, Agricultural and Consumers' Organizations From Operations of the New Act—Anti-
Trust Measures All Likely To Be Disposed of This Week.

Washington, May 27.—Opposition
within Democratic ranks to demands of labor for amendments to the omnibus anti-trust bill virtually collapsed
while the house was concluding general debate on the measure.

Conferences at the White House
and at the Capitol resulted in an understanding that when the house resumes final consideration of the bill

HUERTA A REFUGEE?

Vera Cruz, May 27.—A report is in circulation that General Huerta has fled from Mexico City. The source of the report is not known, but its circulation excited the highest army
circles and there was much cabling
States.

It is said that General Huerta, accompanied only by a few very close
day afternoon and got aboard a car of a train bound for the south. If Huerta goes to Puerto Mexico he will find awaiting him the Ypiranga, the German steamship which has never unloaded its ammunition, and the German cruiser, the Dresden.

AMPLE PROOF OF WEAKNESS

Fremont, O., May 27.—The will of William Brugger, wealthy land owner, orders no money spent for a monument on his grave, leaves his son and daughter $5 each and says his wife is to have only that portion of the estate the law gives her. The remainder of the real and personal property he bequeaths to the village of Clyde, his home for many years.

GIANT LINER SINKS BARGES

New York, May 27.—The great steamship Vaterland, which took nearly four hours to dock when she came to this port on her maiden voyage recently, sank two coal barges
as she steamed out of her berth.
Backing out under her own steam,
her momentum carried her across the Hudson and she slipped in between two piers, where the coal barges, carrying 500 tons of coal each, were tied.
Both barges went down almost at once, but no lives were lost.

FOUND DEAD

Sidney, O., May 27.—Abe Herzstam, 74, business man, was found dead in bed by member of the family. He was a clothing merchant here for nearly 50 years.

SPLITS HEAD WITH A HOE

Kenton, O., May 27.—Using a garden hoe as a weapon, Nell Perry, a farmer residing near McGuffey, west
of here, struck Benjamin Howard, 25,
over the head and knocked him unconscious. Convulsion of the brain developed and Howard is in a critical condition. Perry declares he acted in self-defense when Howard drew a knife. Perry has not been arrested.
When Howard was taken home his
sister, Mrs. Nancy Allen, enraged,
took a knife and went to seek Perry.
She was arrested, but released because there was no one at home to take care of Howard.

El Paso, Tex., May 27.—General
Carranza, head of the Constitution-
alists, has instructed his representative at Niagara Falls to lay before the American delegates a rigid insistence
that the resignation of Huerta must carry also the elimination of all his adherents in the selection of a provisional government pending the
holding of elections. Another objection of Carranza is said to be based on the disposition of Huerta representatives to take no definite action on the agrarian problem, contending that a solution properly lies with the Mexican congress. Carranza's claim is that the revolution is based primarily upon the agrarian problem.

TEDDY USES MILD WORDS

Washington, May 27.—Theodore Roosevelt made the first public statement on politics to which he has given utterance since he returned to the United States. He couched his observations in temperate language
and he did not have a harsh word to say about the Republican party, or Republican leaders. Mr. Roosevelt
eulogized the Progressive congressmen and announced that he would take his part in the campaign this year. He said that he would speak in Pennsylvania and possibly California.
Mr. Roosevelt will make his initial appearance at the Progressive conference to be held in Pittsburgh on June 30 to further the candidacy of Gifford Pinchot for the senate.

CRITIC AND LAYMAN APPRECIATE HARPIN

Of the musical attractions which will be heard here during Chautauqua
week, and they are many and varied,
none will give greater pleasure, alike
to the musical critic, who demands
the finest technique, and to the lay-
man, who asks only that music be telling and entertainingly rendered,
than the Chautauqua Festival Artists,
headed by Dr. A. J. Harpin, the celebrated New England basso, whose transcontinental tours of the past few years have been continual ova-
tions.

Dr. Harpin is so widely and well known that commendation of him
seems superfluous. He possesses a rich bass voice of exceptional compass, an artistic temperament which permits him to make the most of all
the dramatic qualities in the selections which he offers, and a personality which at once attracts and interests his audiences. His readings

Dr. A. J. Harpin.

of oratorios are comprehensive and convincing. His operatic songs are resplendent with virility. His selections in lighter vein are given with a vim and sparkle which demand en-cores.

Musical critics throughout the country have pronounced him one of the finest basses of recent years, and freely predict for him a future of still greater renown. Reared as he has been in the very center of the nation's musical culture, Dr. Harpin, in his recitals, gives evidence of careful
training, and evidences the art impressions of the New England environment, pleasing in wonderful degree
those who demand the very best in music. In addition to meeting the demands of culture, he satisfies those who ask only the qualities of good entertainment. His selections are chosen to please audiences of all kinds.

Accompanying artists measure up
in every respect, and the ensemble
insures one of the real musical treats
of the year.

SILLIMAN TALKS NOT

Vera Cruz, Mexico, May 27.—John
R. Silliman, vice consul at Saltillo,
whose arrest and subsequent disappearance came near breaking up all
mediation between the United States
and Mexico, has arrived at Vera Cruz, Palo, so weak that he had to lean on the arm of a soldier as he traversed
the long break in the railroad into
the American lines. Mr. Silliman refused to avail himself of the stretcher sent to carry him. "Oh, I am all right," he declared, "just a little weak from the fever. I will gain
strength at once."

Mr. Silliman would not discuss his experiences except to say: "I have no blame for General Huerta for my experiences. General Joaquin Maas,
the federal commander, was solely responsible for it all."

The vice consul came into the capital without an escort, but in company with other refugees. Mrs. Silliman
was not with him, she being a guest
of the British consulate at Saltillo.

McIntosh, streetcar conductor, and a woman companion probably will die as the result of a motorcycle accident on the Connersburg road. Both were in the city hospital unconscious.
They were on a motorcycle, which was run down by an automobile.

YOUTH DROWNS

Gambier, O., May 27.—Lester Bickel, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bickel of this village, was drowned while swimming in the Kokosing river here. The body was recovered after being in the water 30 minutes.

FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

Are Told How to Regain Strength
and Vigor.

As one grows old the waste of the system becomes more rapid than repair, the organs act more slowly and
less effectively than in youth, the circulation is poor, the blood thin and digestion weak.

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and
iron tonic without oil is the ideal strengthening and body-builder for
old folks, for it contains the very elements needed to rebuild wasting tissues and replace weakness with strength. Vinol also fortifies the system against colds and thus prevents pneumonia.

Mrs. Mary Ivey, of Columbus, Ga., says: "If people only knew the good Vinol does old people, I am sure you would be unable to supply the demand. I never took anything before
that did me so much good as Vinol.
It is the finest tonic and strength
creator I ever used in my life."

If Vinol fails to build up the feeble
old people, and create strength we

VICIOUS BOUT

Milwaukee Wis., May 27.—Charlie White of Chicago decisively defeated Willie Ritchie of California in a 10-round boxing bout here. White out-fought the westerner in almost all of the rounds. The bout was vicious and bloody at all times.

BUSTIN WINS

Belmont Park, L. I., May 27.—Racing, revived a year ago, was re-established on a firm basis when 15,000 persons saw the 4-year-old Bustin win the Metropolitan handicap at one mile from a high-class field of 11.

CORNELL VICTOR

Cambridge, Mass., May 27.—The Cornell varsity and freshmen crews won their races from the Harvard eights over the mile and seven-eighths course in the Charles river basin. Courtney's stars, which only three days ago vanquished Yale and Princeton on Lake Cayuga, beat the first crew by three feet, while the Cornell freshmen had two full lengths over the Cambridge youngsters.

TRAVERS AND OUIMENT WIN

Versailles, France, May 27.—The defeat of Chick Evans at the hands of another American, Henry J. Toppling, and the victory of Francis Oulmet over Charles A. Palmer, the conqueror of Travers at Sandwich, were the features which stood out at the end of an interesting day's play in the French amateur golf championship at La Boulie. Travers, the American champion, easily disposed of his English opponent.

SIG. JOSEPH QUINTANO.

FROM New York City will come Sig. Joseph Quintano and his famous Royal Italian Band to fill a day's engagement here during Chautauqua week, playing a brilliant program afternoon and evening.

This band has filled long engagements at Madison Square Garden, New York Central Palace; Happy Land Park, Staten Island; Bay Shore Park, Baltimore, and many other places.

From an artistic standpoint, and from the attitude of the average listener who wants to be pleased, the programs of this band leave nothing to be desired.

There is a reaction from the cheap shows and the people want something educational—hence the Chautauqua growth. They have come to stay and great good will be accomplished.—Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis.

MISS LUCY J. PRICE.

TO OPPOSE Woman Suffrage in our state, especially in a joint debate with Mrs. Robert M. LaFollette arguing in favor, requires much courage. That is what Lucy J. Price of Cleveland, has in abundance. She will appear in the joint debate on Women's Day, during Chautauqua week.

Miss Price was raised in the west, and is fond of outdoor sports. She is a splendid horsewoman and plays a good game of tennis. Also, it is said, she can "speak some" when it comes to opposing Woman Suffrage. Anyway, she is Secretary of the Ohio Association Opposed to Equal Suffrage, and rated as one of their best speakers.

BIG AGRICULTURAL LAND OPENING !

TWELVE HUNDRED AND FIFTY TRACTS of five and ten acres each to be granted to prospective settlers in throwing open Twenty Thousand Acres of rich, Southern Georgia Land, which is admirably adapted to the growing of celery, sweet and hot peppers, water melons, corn, oats, cotton, hay—in fact all staple crops grown in this fertile section, as well as a large variety of semi-tropical fruits, and the famous immensely profitable paper-shell pecans.

Providing you are eligible under the classifications prescribed by us you are now offered an excellent opportunity to break away from the drudgery and toil of a small wage, or working for the benefit of landlords, and go back to a land of plenty to which, if granted, you will hold a warranty deed and abstract.

The best security on earth is the earth itself, and land is the basis of all wealth. Owners of productive lands are benefitting by the increasing high cost of living, while others are suffering from it.

An Opportunity to Secure Rich Productive Land Without Capital

You will not be required to leave your present surroundings now. All we ask of those to whom we grant tracts is that they plant, or arrange to have planted, a crop of one of the above-mentioned products within three years, after which we will have it operated (harvested and replanted) for grantees, in consideration of 25 per cent of the net profits derived from the sale of the crops, thereby allowing the grantee to pursue his or her present occupation until such times as they determine just what the yield of their acres amounts to. Consider what this may mean as a source of income, when statistics show that the yield of one acre of celery amounted to $1,268.45, and that one acre of well-cared-for paper shell pecans in full bearing should net its owner as high as $500.00 per year. We are of the opinion that after it is proven by actual results obtained in operation, the land that they will need no further urging, and waste no time in locating in this land of plenty. We also require grantees to occupy the land within ten years, or sell it to some one who will occupy it; otherwise it reverts back to the grantor.

The land included in this opening is located directly on and adjoining the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, about twenty-five miles west of Brunswick, a thriving city of fifteen thousand, having direct steamship service to New York and Boston, and excellent railroad transportation facilities to all points. The average temperature for six months of the year, from April to October, is 77 degrees; the climate is most healthful, delightful and invigorating; and there is an ample rainfall of 51 inches per year.

Our Aim is For Mutually Beneficial Results

As we are extremely desirous of having settlers locate on this property and assist in its development, and thereby greatly increase the value of surrounding and intervening property, which we will hold, and to increase the traffic along the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad, and thus facilitate the service, we feel warranted in granting these tracts to those who register with us. We also have in mind business and residence plots which we will offer for sale after the opening, but which will not be included in it. We have "money-making afterward" considerations in this liberal-minded opening similar to those of the North-

GLENN FRANK MAKES HIS HEARERS THINK

His Lecture Here Will Be Along Sociological Lines.

The present is a day of readjustments. The rise of democracy is engrossing the attention of the world's greatest thinkers. The people are making an imperious demand for the control of their own affairs. Every nation in the world is shaken by the movement, and history is being quietly made in the slow moving of a mighty current.

In America the evidences of the movement are everywhere. Education, commerce, industry, art, letters, statecraft, are feeling the presence of a new spirit moving in the hearts of the people. Political machines are tottering in the rush of the waters; social dynasties are crumbling. A revolution, not of blood, but of mind, is remaking America. A new declaration of independence is being written.

Of the younger generation of profound thinkers, none has left a greater impress upon the people than Glenn Frank of Northwestern University, and none has made an abler contribution to the ferment which is building a new and a better America. Mr. Frank could be a great humorist if he would; a great writer; a great preacher; for he has the mental equipment and the high ideals essential to the achievement of greatness along any of these lines. But his heart is on fire with a desire for service in the great arena of social reform, and he has given himself unreservedly to the platform, where his lectures on sociological themes, correct in premise, logical in construction, irrefutable in conclusion, and clothed in chaste language, have been universally acclaimed as masterpieces of convincing platform presentation. They voice the most advanced thought of the present day on the great problems of social and industrial justice. His hearers may not all agree with him, but they will THINK—and that, after all, is the important thing, for when the American people really think, they inevitably think JUSTICE.

Mr. Frank's lecture here on the Chautauqua platform will be in connection with Community Betterment Day, an eminently proper placing, for his addresses are not only community building, but nation building in scope.

TEDDY TELLS OF PERILOUS TRIP THROUGH BRAZIL

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt today made public the following letter to the Brazilian Minister, thanking him for the help rendered, and telling of the discovery of the "River of Doubt":

To His Excellency,
The Minister of Foreign Affairs, Rio de Janeiro.

My Dear General Lauro Muller:

"I wish first to express my profound acknowledgments to you personally and to the other members of the Brazilian government whose generous courtesy alone rendered possible the Expedicacoe Scientifica Roosevelt-Bondon. I wish also to express my high admiration and regard for Col. Bondon and his associates who have been my colleagues in this work of exploration. In the third place I wish to point out that what we have just done was rendered possible only by the hard and perilous labor of the Brazilian Telegraphic commission in the unexplored western wilderness of Matte Grosse during the last seven years. We have merely put the cap on the pyramid of which they had previously laid deep and broad the foundation. We have had a hard and somewhat dangerous, but very successful trip.

"No less than six weeks were spent in slowly and with peril and exhausting labor forcing our way down through what seemed a literally endless succession of rapids and cataracts. For forty-eight days we saw no human being. In passing these rapids we lost five of the seven canoes with which we started and had to build others. One of our best men lost his life in the rapids. Unde the strain one of the men went completely mad, shirked all his work, stole his comrades' food and when punished by the sergeant he with cold blooded deliberation murdered the sergeant and fled into the wilderness.

Col. Bondon's dog, running ahead of him while hunting, was shot by two Indians; by his death he in all probability saved the life of his master. We have put on the map a river about 1,500 kilometers in length running from just south of the 13th degree to north of the 5th degree and the biggest affluent of the Madeira. Until now its upper course has been utterly unknown to everyone, and its lower course although known for years to the rubber men, utterly unknown to all cartographers. Its course is between the 12th and 13th parallels of latitude north, and between longitude 59 degrees and longitude 60 degrees west from Greenwich. We embarked on it about at latitude 12 degrees 1 minute south and longitude 60 degrees 18 west. After that its entire course was between the 60th and 61st degree of longitude approaching the latter most closely about in latitude 8 degrees 15 minutes.

"The first rapids were at Nevarite in 11 degrees 44 minutes and after that they were continuous and very difficult and dangerous until the rapids named after the murdered sergeant Peishan in 11 degrees 12 minutes. At 11 degrees 25 minutes it receives the Rio Kermat from the left. At 11 degrees 22 minutes the Marciano avila entered it from the right. At 11 degrees 18 minutes the Taunay entered from the left. At 10 degrees 33 minutes the Cardoza entered from the right. At 10 degrees 24 minutes we encountered the first rubber men. The Rio Branco entered from the left at 9 degrees 38 minutes.

"We camped at 8 degrees 49 minutes or approximately the boundary line between the Matte Grosse and Amazonas. The confluence with the Arapuan, which entered from the left was in 7 deg. 34 minutes. The mouth where it entered the Madeira was in five degrees 30 minutes. The stream we have followed down is that which rises farthest away from the mouth and its general course is almost due north.

"My dear sir, I thank you from my heart for the chance to take part in this great work of exploration. "With high regard and respect, believe me,

"Very sincerely yours

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., May 27.—That Argentine may soon actually dominate the price of corn in the United States, as it is now practically doing, according to fears set forth by H. G. Herget, president of the Illinois Manufacturers Association in an address today before the National Foreign Trade Convention here.

He said:

"With a crop little more than one-tenth of ours, Argentina possesses a surplus which has a price-fixing potentiality equal to our own. This condition will not improve but the range will widen and it would seem that within a few years Argentina will actually dominate the price of corn in this country as it is now doing. Land values and the higher plane of living in the Central states will not admit of competition with Argentina in the growing of wheat and oats. There must be some readjustment of values or else a foreign market must be found, as an outlet for our crops. This will require systematic and continuous advertising to the end that foreign countries will learn that our corn contains more nourishment per pound and per cost than any other."

THERMOMETER AT NINETY DEGREES

This week has seen the hottest days experienced this season. For several hours both on Monday and Wednesday the mercury hovered about the 90 degree mark and at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon ascended to 94.

Late Wednesday afternoon the rising of a cool, refreshing breeze and the reports of heavy electrical storms from various parts of the state gave rise to the anticipation of the long-looked-and-prayed-for rain. A good rain tonight will work wonders for the thirsting fields and highways.

HER LAST WORD.

And It Was Up to Harold to Get Whatever Consolation He Could Out of It.

"Lucy," he said, with all the earnestness at his command, "you have driven me to desperation. I have waited and hoped that you might learn to care for me, but my waiting has been unavailing. Now I am going away, to risk my life, to face whatever dangers may lie in my way."

"Yes. I shall go where glory and perhaps fame await me. I shall insist on being in the thick of the fray at all times. There is nothing for me to live for, so why should I fear to die?"

"Please don't say such things, Harold. Surely there is much for you to live for."

"No; if I ever return it will be with the scars of battle upon me. I shall stop at nothing. Wherever dangers are to be faced I shall bear our glorious colors. I shall come back as a hero or I shall not come back at all."

"That should always be a soldier's sentiment. I am glad to hear you speak so nobly."

"I suppose you're right. Well, I shall not be deaf to the call."

"Goodbye, Lucy."

"Goodbye, Harold."

"What is there something?"

"Yes, there is, Lucy."

"Don't get shot, Harold—don't even get half shot."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Her Future Blasted.

"I hear your daughter is going to retire from the stage."

"Yes, she is."

"What's the trouble? I thought she was possessed of talent."

"She is. She has a splendid voice and much dramatic ability, but she sprained a tendon in her ankle and won't be able to dance for a year or more, so she thought she might as well settle down and get married."

"TAPS" A Memorial Day Poem

THEY are marching with a halting step—
A halting step and slow—
And many in those blue clad ranks

Have hair as white as snow.
Their youth lies on the battlefields
Of fifty years ago.

THOSE faded, tattered flags they bear,
All torn by shot and shell,
Are sacred emblems of the dead
Who loved their country well.

How great their love and sacrifice
No human tongue may tell.

THEIR serried ranks are thinning fast
That once with martial tread
The knapsack and the musket bore

Where Grant and Sherman led.
Their sleep is sound and peaceful
In the bivouac of the dead.

NO more the reveille at dawn
Shall rouse them from their sleep;
No more shall wives and sisters

mourn;
No more shall mothers weep.
Their names upon the roll of fame
Time's hand has graven deep.

AND some lie on those hard fought fields
Where now the blue and gray
Clasp hands across those battle lines

Their blood has washed away.
Where once the tide of battle flowed
Their children's children play.

THE passing years speed swiftly,
And silence round them wraps,
And to their listening ears there comes

No sweeter song, perhaps,
Than when the battered bugle sounds

—National Magazine.

Where His Love Lay.

He was sitting in front of a brightly burning fire talking to her. After a while he said thoughtfully:

"This reminds me of a grate that I used to sit in front of years ago."

"I can well imagine how you enjoyed those evenings," she responded hopefully, "open fires give one such a sense of home."

But he went on talking of drafts and heat and ashes and the hygienic condition of a room ventilated by a fireplace.

"I have never known a grate," he continued, "like the one in the home of the girl where I used to go so often."

A long silence followed, the crackling of the fire the only sound in the room.

It was broken at last by him in a voice that had echoes of a dear memory in its tones, "You cannot imagine how I loved that grate!" —New York Post.

ELECTIONS IN FRANCE.

They Are Held on Sunday and Rarely Finished in One Day.

In France elections are held on Sunday. Universal manhood suffrage is the rule. Every Frenchman of twenty-one years of age, on proof of six months' residence, is a legal voter at the elections to the chamber, saving only soldiers on active service and others disqualified for bankruptcy and criminal reasons. Because of the number of candidates the first day's polling in many districts is not final.

Where no candidate receives an absolute majority, a second election is held. It often happens that from one-third to one-fourth of the elections for deputies are not finally decided until the second poll, when not infrequently one or more candidates in a district have withdrawn.

The polling begins at 8 in the morning and lasts until 6 in the evening. Instead of regularly appointed clerks and election officials, three volunteers take charge of the "urn" in which the ballots are deposited and conduct the proceedings. One of the penalties of being first to appear is the likelihood of being impressed into service as one of the assessors, of whom two, both independent voters, must serve with the "president of the ballot."

The counting of the ballots is also done by volunteers called for from among the electors.

In the absence of the party system it is difficult strictly to classify the candidates. In a general way they range themselves in groups around certain well known political leaders.

"Nothing serious," answered the man with a dusty face and no collar.

"It sounds like a drunk smashing up furniture."

"I have been doing a little furniture smashing. You see, we're going to move, and there's some of our stuff that my wife would rather burn up or send out with the trash than let the neighbors see it standing on the sidewalk." —Washington Star.
